WE'RE RUNNING OUT OF PATIENCE

ANGRY: Some of the residents who have been calling for the 'Black Run' to be closed

A PETITION calling for the closure of an alleyway notorious for attracting anti-social behaviour will be presented to councillors tonight (Thursday).

People living near the pathway, which runs between Abbotswold Primary School and properties in Orchard Croft, say it is a hotspot for drug-taking, vandalism and graffiti.

But despite years of campaigning to have the alleyway – known locally as the 'Black Run' – residents say their concerns continue to be ignored.

Now, in their latest attempt to persuade the council to take action, they will hand over an online petition at tonight's (Thursday) full council meeting.

Campaign leader Daren Clampton said he could not understand why it had taken so long for something to be done.

"After the last article in the Star the council quickly sent a team down to clean it up, make repairs to fencing and paint over the graffiti," he said "They've already had to return twice since to repaint.

By VICKY LANE

"It's just such a waste of time and money when there is such a simple solution – close the footpath! An extra 90-second walk for the welfare of residents and schoolchildren should be a no-brainer."

Abbotswold Primary School headteacher Lesley Lynn said she had encouraged all staff and parents to sign the petition, which needed a minimum of 650 signatures to earn a place on the council's agenda.

"We fully support this campaign and agree closing the alleyway would be best solution," she said. "We are concerned that drug and alcohol paraphernalia could be thrown over into our fields as has happened in the past, and also worry about what our children could see, pick up or fall on when they use that alleyway to get to school."

"For the sake of our children's safety, we really hope this is the last push the council needs to finally close that path."

The petition was started by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who said the problem needed to be rectified "once and for all".

Flat blaze leaves pregnant mother homeless

A PREGNANT woman and her four-year-old child have been left homeless after a devastating fire ripped through their first floor flat on Friday.

Firefighters who arrived at the property in Purford Green, pictured left, shortly after the alarm was raised at 4.30pm found the blaze had already taken hold and the flat was completely smoke-logged.

The family had already managed to escape and suffered no injuries, although the woman was treated for smoke inhalation at the scene.

Crews wearing breathing apparatus used one hose reel to tackle the flames, extinguishing the fire by 5.13pm. They then used a high-pressure fan to clear the flat of smoke.

An investigation is now under way to establish the cause of the blaze, which has left the council-owned property uninhabitable.

Councillor Rod Truan, portfolio holder for housing at Harlow Council, said it had been doing all they could to support the family.

"This is clearly a very distressing time for the family who are council tenants," he said.

"We are providing support and have placed them in temporary accommodation. We are also helping to process insurance claims and we have arranged for a council surveyor to assess the extent of the damage to the property.

"We will continue to keep the family up to date."

Police investigating rape allegation arrest woman

DETECTIVES investigating an allegation of rape have arrested a Harlow woman on suspicion of attempting to pervert the course of justice.

Police were contacted shortly after 1pm last Tuesday following reports that a woman had been abducted near the police station in South Gate, Harlow, and driven to East Ham where she was raped.

The area where the abduction was said to have taken place remained cordoned off for several days as forensic teams carried out a search for evidence.

This week police said a 31-year-old woman had been arrested on suspicion of attempting to pervert the course of justice.

She was released on police bail until December 4 pending further inquiries.

Detectives are continuing to investigate the circumstances surrounding the original allegations.

Blunnie murder accused enters 'not guilty' pleas

A MAN accused of murdering his heavily pregnant ex-girlfriend and causing the death of their unborn daughter entered a not guilty plea when he appeared at the Old Bailey yesterday (Wednesday).

Tony McLernon (23), of North Grove, Harlow, was remanded in custody until his trial which is due to take place at Chelmsford Crown Court next February.

During the 13-minute hearing

McLernon spoke only to confirm his identity and plead not guilty to the murder of 20-year-old Estyna Blunnie and one count of child destruction.

Ms Blunnie, of Halling Hill, Harlow, was found fatally injured by the side of the road in Howard Way shortly before 3am on Wednesday, June 27.

She was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital but doctors were unable to save her or her unborn baby.

BUDDING artists are being encouraged to send in artwork for a new charity exhibition being staged in Harlow.

The Gatehouse Arts Gallery has launched a Postcard Exhibition and Secret Auction project to raise funds for St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood and arts association ACAVA, which subsidises the group's studios.

The fundraising scheme aims to collect as many 6" x 4" postcard-sized works as possible from professional and amateur artists which will then be displayed in an exhibition at the gallery's new East Gate site from October 14.

Each piece will be available for sale by posted bids, with a final secret auction taking place in November.

"We already have work coming in from across the UK and are expecting to soon receive some from as far away as Australia," said marketing and social media co-ordinator Claire Jones.

"We really want to spread the word and get as many submissions as possible. Harlow MP Robert Halfon has already agreed to take part and said he would try to convince other MPs to join in, too. We are also campaigning for some celebrity entries."

The only criteria for entries is they must be postcard sized. It can be created using any artistic medium.

"It could be done with print, photography, paint, mixed media - anything really," said Claire. "We just want people to be as creative as possible."

Gallery appeals for postcard art

"If people are stuck for ideas, we will also be holding an open day event in conjunction with the exhibition launch where members of the public can come down and create a postcard there and then."

"The exhibition will run until November 2 and then we will hold a public auction of all the artworks to raise money for charity."

She added: "This is a great opportunity for participants to get a gallery exhibition and joint show on their CV whilst being part of an international artistic collaboration."

Entries must be posted or hand delivered to the Gatehouse Arts Gallery at 19 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 2JR before October 12. For more details, visit www.gatehousearts.com or email gatehouse@mail.com.

Anglers go fishing for hospice funds

KEEN anglers have helped to net more than £950 for St Clare Hospice.

They took part in a competition at Clavering Lakes hosted by broadcaster and Talk Sport radio presenter Keith Arthur.

The first prize of £100, donated by local funeral directors Daniel Robinson & Sons and Peasgood & Sons, was won by Adrian Tasker whose total catch tipped the scales at 107.4lbs. Runner-up was Darren Marder.

Volunteer fundraiser Caroline Bore thanked everyone who took part in this year's competition.

"It is with this kind of support in the community that St Clare Hospice can deliver its services to those in that community," she said.

Keith added: "I always come along to the hospice competition at Clavering when I can as it is for such a good cause. Not many fishing sites can boast such good bacon sandwiches or cakes either!"

Join in Salvation Army's activities

THE Harlow branch of the Salvation Army is encouraging residents to join in with some of the many activities it organises.

The SA runs numerous clubs throughout the week at its centre in Tendring Road aimed at bringing members of the community together, including a baby and toddler group on Mondays, a tea and togs jumble sale every Tuesday and an over 50s lunch club and friendship group on Thursdays.

It is currently encouraging creative youngsters between the ages of 5-14 to enter its art competition which this year has the theme of hope.

Centre co-ordinator Lorraine Fox said: "All artwork must be based on a story of hope from the Bible and will be judged in different age categories. Entries need to be received before Friday, October 26 so the winners can be announced at a coffee morning the following day."

For more information about Salvation Army activities or the art competition visit www.harlow.salvationarmy.org.uk or call (01279) 441581.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, September 21 is ticket holder 816033, who lives in Sawbridgeworth.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 354996, who lives in Harlow.

Wendy takes to the water for fitness challenge

A HARLOW mum currently powering her way through a marathon swim is hoping to make waves by inspiring other people to take up the fundraising challenge.

Wendy Beckett (41), of Spencers Croft, said she signed up for the 22-mile Aspire Channel Swim on a whim after seeing it in a magazine.

Despite having never done anything like it before, she thought it would be a good way to both get fit whilst helping a worthy cause.

"I have needed to get fit for a while now," she said, "so when I saw the advert for the event I just thought it would be a good way of killing two birds with one stone. It's a way of losing weight whilst raising money and awareness for the charity Aspire, which supports people suffering serious spinal injuries."

Committing herself to swimming 50 lengths of the pool at the Virgin Active health club in the town centre three times a week, mum-of-one Wendy said she was confident about completing the challenge.

"Some sessions I feel really good and come away thinking that was great, but other times I hate it!" she said.

"I'll definitely complete it though. Everyone has been so generous with their donations and I am hoping to raise over £500. I have already passed the £400 mark so there's no way I can let them down now!"

She added: "Overall it has been nice to have something to work towards and I am proud of myself for sticking it out. Hopefully, other people will read this and be encouraged to sign up next year."

Hotel staff's soapy sponge work leaves customers' cars gleaming

BUCKETS of cash were made for charity when employees at a Harlow hotel held a charity car wash.

The dedicated team, who all work at the Park Inn by Radisson Harlow in Southern Way, came into work specially to spend a morning cleaning cars.

Their efforts raised £70 for the hotel chain's corporate charity, the World Childhood Foundation.

The event is one of two being carried out by the hotel's staff during September as part of Responsible Business Action Month, with the team next heading out tomorrow (Friday) to pick up litter in the local area.

"Although we would have liked to have raised more from the charity car wash, every bit adds up and our staff did a great job," said events co-ordinator Sophie Farrow.

"The original target amount had been £50 so it was good to go over that and our customers seemed happy with the end results."

MP argues the case for a new M11 link road

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW bypass linking the A414 with the M11 is the only way to relieve the town's crippling congestion problems, MP Robert Halfon has told the Government's new transport supremo.

Simon Burns, who replaced Theresa Villiers as Minister of State for Transport in David Cameron's cabinet reshuffle earlier this month, was given the lowdown on problems with the town's roads network during a visit on Friday.

At an informal meeting with voters and local residents in Potter Street, Mr Halfon seized the opportunity to urge the minister to back his long-running campaign for a new M11 junction and claimed the link road would boost Harlow's economy and make the town a "better place to live".

Afterwards, Mr Halfon said Mr Burns – who is MP for Chelmsford – remained "fairly non-committal" on the matter but nevertheless he had been encouraged by the minister's response.

"I was really pleased to welcome Simon to Harlow as the new Transport Minister," Mr Halfon told the Star. "Being a neighbouring Essex MP he understands the issues we face in our town."

"I have been campaigning for an additional junction on the M11 for over six years now. We are being choked to death by traffic and motorists are suffering every day."

Highways authority Essex County Council has already pledged £500,000 towards producing detailed plans for the proposed scheme and earlier this year said that securing funding for a new junction and link road from the Department of Transport was its "number one priority".

Calls for the bypass have also been publicly backed by Harlow Council.

Mr Halfon added: "Harlow now has the fastest business growth in the UK, and our town has created more than 500 new jobs this year. That's why I believe Harlow should be a magnet for investment and I will be urging the Government to put us at the top of the list for new transport infrastructure."

"A new junction will create jobs and make it easier for businesses to relocate here. It will make a huge difference, help with traffic in general and make Harlow a better place to live."

Drivers warned of lane closures during night works

OVERNIGHT roadworks on the M11 between the Harlow and Birchanger junctions started on Sunday.

The improvements will include surface repairs and resurfacing as well as expansion joint repairs on the Hallingbury Hall Bridge.

The joints protect the structure by allowing it to expand and contract with seasonal changes in temperature.

The work is taking place on both the northbound and southbound carriageways over 11 nights and will continue until Monday, October 8. Drivers have been warned to expect lane closures.

However, it is being undertaken on Sunday to Thursday nights only, with no closures on Friday or Saturday.

Mike Evans of the Highways Agency said: "This repair work is part of our commitment to maintain safe and reliable journeys for road users on the M11."

"It has been carefully planned to minimise disruption to drivers and so will be carried out overnight when traffic flows are lowest, and one lane will remain open while the work takes place."

Repairs will take place in stages with lane closures for approximately three-four miles between 8pm and 6am.

From the Star

A "lack of community support" has been blamed for the failure of a charity swimathon in Harlow. Organisers were shocked to see only six people take part whilst hundreds of swimmers in the rest of the county did their bit.

Harlow's £600,000 scanner appeal has pushed through the midway mark thanks to a £100,000 donation from the Essex CAT Scanner Fund. The East Herts and West Essex Scanner Appeal based at Princess Alexandra Hospital received the bumper donation after matching the amount through fundraising.

Human remains buried in the churchyard at St Mary's in Churchgate Street have been disturbed by building works. The Rev Robert Howarth promised the remains would be re-interred "discreetly and reverently" once the work is complete.

Vandals struck twice in four days at McDonalds this week. £200 worth of damage was caused when the front doors of the takeaway in The High were kicked in. Then bricks from a nearby building site were thrown through the windows, causing £1,000 worth of damage.

ON THE BUSES: Alf and his son Jimmy

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

READER Sidney Rayner, one of the "bicycle brothers" featured in Nostalgia a couple of weeks ago, has been back in touch.

Sidney and his brother George were pictured in photographs taken back in the 1950s posing outside Edmunds Tower near Haydens Road after cycling to Harlow from their home in Shepherds Bush.

"Further to the article I would just like to clarify a few points," he writes.

"In August 1958 my parents and I visited my cousin Dorothy Sayer – known as Dora – and her family in Fold Croft to where they had moved from Wembley soon after Harlow New Town first 'opened'.

"My brother George missed that visit because he was at college at the time, so that was actually why George and I decided to cycle to Harlow."

Sidney said it was after reading the article about 'Market Micky' that he decided to dig out some more of his old photographs.

"Dora's husband, Alf, was a bus conductor on the first of the Harlow buses," he explains, "and Dora was the grandmother of

FAMILY GROUP: Dora, second right, and members of the family

Karen Taylor, who was quoted in the article about 'Market Micky', so I am distantly related to Karen Taylor.

"In January 1972 my wife Hazel and I, together with our sons Stephen, Brian and Philip, moved to a house in Fennells that my brother George had found for us whilst he was working as a sales rep in Harlow.

"About a year later our fourth son, Gary, was born in Princess Alexandra Hospital and he still lives with us in our present house in Tithelands to where we moved in 1976."

Sidney added: "Stephen, Brian and Philip all live in Harlow, so my family have now been Harlow residents for 40 years."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Tany's Dell Primary

A FEW weeks ago we printed this old photograph of Mr Dunn's class at Tany's Dell Primary School.

Afterwards several readers got in touch to share their memories of their schooldays at Tany's Dell and in particular the haka-performing Kiwi teacher.

Maggie Beensen was the first to share her recollections of the popular teacher, who she said had pupils in stitches with his lively rendition of the traditional Maori dance.

Then Churchfield resident Marilyn Burnett got in touch to say she believed the teacher's name was Mr Dale.

However, this week we heard from Jo West who said she thought his name was Mr Fuata – nicknamed FU – and said he was "a true maori".

"He was a neighbour of mine in East Park," writes Jo. "He was a big bear of a man and all the kids loved him.

"He had a Dutch wife called Mariam who was a slight girl. As a couple they gave meaning to the phrase 'little and large! Together they had three young daughters, the eldest of whom was called Tiara."

In reference to Maggie's fond memories of the school dinners during her time at Tany's Dell, Jo added: "I also remember the chocolate sponge pudding with pink custard ... and I loved it, too."

Old school pals Pauline Allen and Melvyn Seymour, who got back in touch with each other a year ago, are organising a reunion to catch up with old classmates and reminisce about the good old days.

"We were pleasantly surprised by the response we received to the previous article in Nostalgia and found one or two who had been really hard to trace," said Pauline, who now lives in Haverhill after leaving Harlow shortly after finishing at the school.

"With just a few days to go before the event, we just wanted to put out another reminder so that hopefully as many old faces as possible will be there for what should be a really good night."

The reunion is taking place in Old Harlow on October 6. For more details email pauline.p.allen@btinternet.com or call Melvyn on 07970 043320.

Meet the town's health champions

THE first batch of volunteer health champions will soon be doing their bit to improve the health of the people of Harlow.

After signing up for the health coaching role a couple of months ago, the group of 11 completed an NHS-commissioned training course aimed at equipping them with the skills to help and encourage people to adopt healthier lifestyles.

"Our health trainer service makes a real hands-on difference to people's health," said Sue Felgate, health trainer service lead at Anglian Community Enterprise, which has been awarded a one-year contract to run the service.

"We have trained more than 400 health champions in north east Essex to promote healthy lifestyles and signpost people to health improvement services in their communities. We now aim to replicate this success in west Essex."

Anyone interested in receiving help from a health coach or in becoming a volunteer health trainer champion should call 0800 731 3133.

CONCERNS have been voiced over the possibility that hundreds of new homes could be built on farmland on the edge of Harlow.

A flyer has been distributed around Sawbridgeworth in response to neighbouring authority Epping Forest District Council's future planning consultation document, Community Choices: Issues and Options for the Local Plan.

Some 51 acres of farmland behind Sheering Lower Road, from the end of Back Lane to Station Road, have been mooted as possibly ripe for development over the next 20 years.

The flyer states: "This development will have a massive impact on every resident in Sawbridgeworth, putting immeasurable strain on our schools, our roads, our train station, our medical facilities, our community."

Urging residents to take an active part in the consultation process, it adds: "We can stop this but only if we act. Every objection counts!"

Speaking at Monday's town council meeting, local resident Michael Brown said the threat of 600 new homes had come "completely out of the blue", adding: "It would have a terrible impact on Sawbridgeworth if allowed to take place."

Town clerk Richard Bowran said the council had only been made aware of the consultation earlier this month but had already met Epping Forest District Council officers to find out more.

He reassured residents that it was still at the very early stages, adding: "There is no question of the bulldozers moving in tomorrow. It's one of about 60 sites they're looking at to accommodate future needs for homes."

Last Wednesday more than 60 people attended a meeting in Sheering village hall to discuss the proposals.

During a heated 90-minute discussion, concerns ranged from the lack of communication from Epping Forest Council to whether local infrastructure could cope with the demands of a new settlement.

Villager Ray Lowe said: "After a long meeting it was agreed to set up a fighting community group to keep the whole community in touch and take the pressure off the parish council."

Pressure is on to close 'Black Run'

"Having visited the alleyway my conclusion is that it is a disaster area," he said this week. "It was covered in graffiti and there was drug paraphernalia, broken glass and used condoms, all of which are also being thrown into people's back gardens and the grounds of Abbotsweld Primary."

"I appreciate the council have been doing a lot of cleaning up in the area and the police have been making extra patrols but I just do not agree that the benefits of keeping the pathway open outweigh the problems."

However, Jon Clempner, the council's portfolio holder for environment, accused Mr Halfon of "jumping on the bandwagon".

"He knows that the previous Tory administration sat on this for years," he told the Star. "As soon as this was brought to the current administration's attention we made sure that there were additional community safety patrols to deter anti-social behaviour and asked Kier to clean up any issues."

Mr Clempner added: "We will be speaking to the residents to make sure their views are taken into account, but this will be based on all the residents' views – and the law – rather than a knee-jerk reaction to make a political point."

SIR, I must admit that I am prone to firing off a blast when things seem to go wrong, but I also think that where credit is due it ought to be given.

I think Alan Knightley (Letters, September 20) neglects to take into account the very great contribution youth and community organisations make in the town and the support they have had from Harlow Council.

In Church Langley some years ago the fencing and nets on tennis courts were broken down and destroyed and our nearly completed sports and youth clubs pavilion was burned to the ground by vandals.

Unfortunately there are children and young adults who group together to destroy what in fact they could probably gain most benefit from. They are very, very few and the vast majority of our youngsters are good hearted and enthusiastic and we should be proud of them.

However, the cost of repairing and replacing facilities is very high. Harlow Council has been extremely supportive in helping the community and parents in restoring these facilities.

Our locally established charity, South East Harlow Sports & Youth Association, serves youngsters and adults from across the town and members raised funds to which Harlow Council added. This enabled our volunteers to work with council officers to refit the tennis courts at Church Langley with fencing that will stand use for five-a-side side football as well as new tennis nets.

In addition the courts were equipped with substantial basketball nets.

These courts are free for the community to use at no charge. SEHSYA volunteers still keep an eye on the courts, clearing litter, putting up nets and attending to small repairs and again the Harlow Council team is always very helpful.

Mr Knightley also mentioned sports and youth facilities and again credit is due to the council. When our buildings next to the courts were razed to the ground the council offered to provide temporary accommodation. The council is now supporting us in our efforts to build a permanent building to replace the current relocatable accommodation.

Local councillors have raised and donated funds for equipment for youngsters to use. The council further supports sports and youth

AS summer turns to autumn, farmers up and down the country have been busy gathering in their harvests. Reader Jason Thirley, of Latton Street, Harlow, took this photo at Latton Farm earlier this month.

"The news was full of reports of crop failures across Europe and the US due to bad weather," he writes. "I had been watching the fields and the weather, wondering when the farmer would harvest."

"Suddenly we had a week of good weather and fortunately for me they harvested on a Saturday when I was not working so I ran out and took the photo. I wanted to capture the diversity of Harlow, one of the first towns to have a tower block yet maintaining and using its green spaces. "Harlow has come in for a lot of criticism throughout the years but when you look at things like increasing oil and food prices it shows what a visionary Sir Frederick Gibberd was. Harlow has a cycle network, a green belt and food production on the doorstep. Sir Frederick was genuinely a man ahead of his time."

● Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it.

Theatre criticism proved unfounded

SIR, I recently had the pleasure to return to Harlow for a brief period and was delighted to pay a visit to the Playhouse.

As some of your readers may remember, four years ago before retiring as a local councillor I was congratulated by some and criticised by many for calling on the head of community services to resign over the fiasco of the Playhouse ceasing to be a 'producing' theatre and moving towards a 'receiving' theatre and the handling of the crises that led to the departure of then manager, Philip Dale.

I was able to pick up a copy of the new Playhouse brochure and I have to say it is as well designed as it is innovative. There are some fabulous shows coming to Harlow and the residents of the town, I am sure, will welcome many of the changes in style and substance.

Given that my criticism of the head of community services was made public in the Star, I feel it only right that my congratulations and apology should also be made public. This season's programme is as varied as any I can remember and the hardworking staff deserve congratulations.

I have to say, however, that there is something missing. While of course it is a great thing to have a varied mix of programming of professional productions, the amateur productions (which to me were the heart of the Playhouse) have, in my view, been sadly gutted. Whilst I respect and am glad to see some of the changes made to the schedule, it is such a great shame that fewer of Harlow's citizens have an opportunity to tread the hallowed boards.

It is a pity that my worst fears about the direction of the theatre in respect of giving residents of Harlow, particularly young people and those beginning their dramatic careers, have so few activities by allowing us to turn what was simply a field into one of the best sports fields in the town.

The council can't do everything and much of our work depends on dedicated volunteers marking and repairing pitches and clearing litter. Then there are the volunteers from clubs who have organised, trained and coached hundreds of children and young people week in, week out come rain, frost or shine.

However, the facilities and marked pitches do not spontaneously appear and we have to raise some funds. It would be unreasonable to expect the council to pay for absolutely everything.

Mr Knightley needs to realise that the tons of soil, new nets, weed treatments of pitches, changing rooms, toilets, heating, lighting, specialist line-marking and rolling machines cost substantial amounts.

However, the costs to individual families for youth sports teams is less than a pint of beer and a sandwich per week, which is pretty good value when you compare it to any other form of entertainment or activity or child minding rates.

Our venture has been a success and Harlow Council has supported us all along the line, but there remains much that needs to be done. However, it is also down to parents and volunteers supporting children and young people by giving time to community groups and youth sports clubs that makes it happen.

I agree with Mr Knightley that keeping youngsters busy in healthy pursuits will help combat anti-social behaviour and crime. It will also help youngsters to develop into more rounded and capable individuals, but in the absence of – or even with – large amounts of cash from government it is down to parents, volunteers and communities to get the ball rolling.

Dogs must be kept away from horses

SIR, Whilst I sympathise with the dog owner for the loss of her pet ("Dog trampled by tethered horse", September 20), the situation could have been totally avoided had her dog been on a lead or had she been walking it away from the horse.

As both a horse and dog owner, I have often had dogs approach me whilst I am out riding and try to attack my horse. Because of this she is terrified of dogs and will kick out at any that come too close to her when being ridden. Horses are prey animals; if they feel threatened at all they will fight or run away. Given that this horse was tethered it could not run away.

I regularly walk my dog on Latton Common and even though she is accustomed to horses and gives them a wide berth I never allow her near anyone else's horses as you do not know how they are going to react.

There is enough space to go around the horses without having to approach them.

To say that it could have been a child is absolute rubbish. My horse would never hurt a child but will attack dogs – they know the difference.

Horses are the most gentlest and loving creatures and only react in such an aggressive way out of fear from bad experiences.

People need to learn to respect and leave these animals well alone and then these kind of situations would not happen.

opportunities to perform. A great chance was lost to have more of a mix of amateur and professional productions.

I like to believe that as a former politician of the town I have always been honest and have admitted to my own mistakes. It is clear to me now, some four years later, that many of the changes that were planned and which I rallied against have given added value to the Playhouse, although I still feel it is to the detriment of the amateur arts that have always flourished in the town.

That being said, when I am wrong I say I am wrong and I apologise.

Berecroft residents worried after fire

SIR, After reading your report about the Berecroft bungalow fire and the comments by South Anglia director Tracey White (Star, September 13), I do feel the need to put pen to paper. I am not sure which planet Ms White is living on but it's certainly not near the Berecroft estate. Perhaps she has a very short memory but she cannot surely make comments like these and expect the residents of Berecroft to just continue as normal.

In 2009 a meeting was held after the last fire and Ms White stood up and announced that all properties would have new roofs fitted. This was met with relief from the residents of Berecroft knowing that the work would be done.

Just a few weeks on this comment sadly was taken back by South Anglia, which claimed that all the residents within the bungalows would receive a home visit from the housing association. Sadly this visit never took place and the people who lived there have never had it explained to them why this work never took place.

When in 2007 the community office at Berecroft was set on fire, one of the biggest issues the fire brigade found was the old bitumen roof and also the tiles. In 2009, when fire took hold within the terraced houses, it was again said that the old roof had a major part to play in helping the fire spread, while the old ducting system for the now defunct central heating system allowed the airflow to keep the fire burning.

It was by the grace of god that no-one was hurt or worse by this latest fire, but surely the housing association cannot continue to just brush it off.

It's my understanding that once again this has become a criminal investigation. If anyone is charged the likelihood of any fire report being released within a year is very unlikely.

This being said, what now happens to the residents of Berecroft? Do they just carry on and forget it or do they, like any normal residents, demand answers and then demand work to be carried out if it is needed?

Perhaps our MP could also explain what he has done to help the other residents on the estate and also tell them when he intends to call a meeting to explain the fire and also what happens next?

All I know is there are some very worried residents of the Berecroft estate again.

Were cuts a factor in response delay?

SIR, How could it have happened that an accident in which a cyclist was killed (Star, September 13) could possibly have been graded as "non life-threatening" by the East of England Ambulance Service? This was an accident in which a cyclist and a car collided. There was no possibility that it was anything but a serious accident. Perhaps even if it had been graded as life-threatening and the ambulance had arrived within eight minutes the cyclist might have died anyway, but the delay caused by someone grading it as non life-threatening must have greatly reduced his chances.

We need as an urgent priority to know how this tragic mistake happened. All of us are potentially under threat if this kind of thing can happen.

Who decides that accidents are non life-threatening and on what basis are such decisions reached? This is information needed now and action needs to be taken to ensure that it cannot happen again. There can be no question of waiting until a possible court case or inquest many months hence.

One other question that needs to be answered is whether there has been any reduction in the level of ambulance provision in the current climate of cuts?

And do we need to be concerned about the centralisation of services implied by the fact that this was the East of England Ambulance Service rather than something more local?

Sites are a prime target for housing

SIR, I would like to thank Nigel Clarke for correcting an error in my letter regarding the building of housing around Harlow (Star, September 20).

The main point is that the land seems to be a prime target for building on.

The plan for building to the west of Sumners towards the B181 is at present on Epping Forest District Council land. It has also identified other areas which make a ring around Harlow.

Harlow North, as I'm sure Mr Clarke knows, is or was also included.

Without improving road and rail services and greatly increasing hospital capacity, as well as increasing other services, Harlow and the surrounding villages and hamlets would not be able to cope with an increase in housebuilding.

With regard to taking up my gripes with my local councillor, rest assured that is well in hand.

If anyone else is interested in what is going on in West Sumners, check the Stop West Sumners website at

I'm delighted by police crackdown

SIR, Last Monday was a delight, a great start to the week. It was with considerable amusement that I commuted to (and from) my allotment just off Hastingwood roundabout. Mobile phones were being dropped into laps, brake lights aglow and the frenzied fastening of seatbelts of motorists driving along Southern Way and up the A414.

All to no avail, of course, as the police had obviously seen it all before, hence the number of drivers being stopped. It was good to see so many police out and about.

I was also pleased to see cars being seized by the police for having no insurance, etc. As a driver of some 50 plus years, I deeply resent drivers who fail to MOT/tax and, worse, insure their cars.

Sadly there will still be drivers who remain oblivious to the dangers on the road. Would you believe that on Thursday I saw a woman driving a people carrier on the M11 roundabout at Hastingwood plucking her eyebrows with a pair of tweezers! How about that for stupidity?

So, let's do it all over again – please.

Cull of badgers is not necessary

SIR, The last time I formally wrote a letter to an MP was to Bill Rammell on the subject of a badger cull. On that occasion I was listened to and any planned cull was re-examined with a thought to a vaccination programme by 2015. Most things in politics can eventually be changed. However, a future Labour government will not be able to revive 100,000 dead badgers – one third of the species if the current Government's cull goes ahead. The Conservatives said they would be the greenest government ever. I thought that was a pledge rather than a comment on their inexperience in government.

A simple solution to the problem of TB in cattle is two-fold to prevent the slaughter of 25,000 badgers – a vaccination programme and ending the unnecessary movement of cattle all over the country, an uncontrolled policy which caused the foot and mouth disease.

The Government refuses to release the comments and advice of the independent chief scientific adviser of the Government about this issue. Why is this?

Many hands make lighter work of museum gardens

DIETERS helped lighten the load for green-fingered volunteers at Harlow Museum when they spent a day transforming its gardens.

A team of about 80 volunteers from local weight loss group LighterLife ploughed, raked and mowed their way through the walled grounds at Muskhams Road to bring the four landscaped gardens back to their former glory.

Their efforts add to months of work carried out by volunteers at the site since it was taken over by charitable group Science Alive.

"As a charitable organisation we are always grateful when other groups, companies and organisations come forward to support the work that we do," said Science Alive chief executive Jon O'Connor.

"The work that LighterLife have pledged is of great value to both us but also to the wider community."

LighterLife representatives will be returning to the museum today (Thursday) to run a performance workshop for local children as part of a new 'Creativity in the Garden' event.

Car owner hangs on as thief drives away

A CAR owner was dragged along the road for nearly half a mile as he desperately tried to stop a car thief from driving off with his Range Rover.

The terrifying ordeal started at around 7.45pm on Thursday after the man, who lives in Harlow, agreed to meet the suspect who was posing as a potential buyer of the vehicle.

They met at the McDonald's restaurant near the M11 roundabout at Hastingwood.

The thief, who called himself Tony and claimed to work for multi-national construction firm Skanska, got into the passenger seat of the vehicle and was driven by the owner to the nearby Epping Service Station to take a closer look at the car.

But when the owner got out of the car to offer the man a test drive, the suspect jumped into the driver's seat and sped off - with the owner desperately clinging on to the passenger seat armrest as he was dragged along the road.

He eventually fell from the speeding vehicle, blacking out as he hit the road and sustaining a serious head injury and wounds to his legs and arms.

Police later recovered the stolen vehicle in east London.

Police have urged anyone who saw the incident or the suspect waiting outside McDonald's before the robbery to contact PC Paul Burnett at Harlow police station on 101.

Copper pipes stolen from build site

METAL thieves have stolen 600ft of copper piping worth £700 from a building site in Sawbridgeworth.

The pipes had been removed from several properties under construction at the Scholar's Walk development in Cambridge Road some time over the weekend of September 14-17.

A total of 55 homes are being built on the four-acre site next to Leventhorpe Schools.

Police are appealing for anyone with information about the theft to contact them on 101.

Jobs fair will help get Harlow back to work

THE past six months have shown 500 jobs coming back to Harlow, including many for young people.

But while this is good news, we need to do everything we can to bring more jobs back to our town. That's why I have spent many weeks personally organising a jobs fair at the Leisurezone on Friday, October 26.

The aim is to help local people who are looking for a job to meet companies with vacancies. Entry is free and there will also be job-training seminars such as CV workshops.

Over 100 local firms will be attending, recruiting new staff at the event. It is also free for them to hold a stall and there are only a few places left!

The event is also being supported by the Harlow Chamber of Commerce, the local Jobcentre, Seetec, Harlow College, Olympic torchbearer Mike Jackson and others. Please sign-up online at www.harlowjobsfair.eventbrite.com for your free ticket. I hope to see you there.

AS as the Star reported a few weeks ago, Abbotswold Primary School and local residents are concerned about a dangerous local alleyway known as the 'Black Run'.

People living nearby have suffered from a lot of anti-social behaviour. Drug paraphernalia, needles and condoms are repeatedly being

MY VIEW FROM WESTMINSTER

A monthly column
by Robert Halfon,
MP for Harlow

thrown into people's back gardens. This is happening week in, week out. There is also a lot of graffiti and rubbish. One mother in Old Orchard now cannot let her children play in their own garden because of this.

This issue has been going on for a long time and I welcome the efforts of Harlow Council and the police to try to clean up the alley. However, local residents believe that this is not solving the problem.

They argue the only way to deal with it is for the Black Run to be closed. They have asked me to present a petition to Harlow Council tonight, asking for emergency action. If you are able to join us or sign the petition it would be hugely appreciated.

SINCE my report in the Star last month there has been a small breakthrough on petrol prices.

Fuel costs are still extortionate but at least the Government now seem to be taking this seriously. In the last few weeks over 80 MPs have backed my PetrolPromise.com campaign.

After I raised this in Parliament, the Government have now announced a full investigation into oil fraud and market manipulation. These problems were keeping petrol and diesel prices high at the pumps. The Government's announcement is good news because, as every driver in Harlow knows, oil giants are quick to put prices up but you practically need a court order to get them down.

You don't have to travel far around Harlow to find proof of oil profiteering. Star readers have written to me, asking why is the BP garage at the end of Potter Street always 3p more expensive than others? It's a very fair question.

In fact, you see the same problem across our town. Fuel is always a few pence more expensive here than in nearby towns like Chelmsford or Stevenage.

That's why, as well as freezing and reducing fuel duty, it is essential that the Government cracks down on the oil companies, just as they are doing in the USA, Austria, and Germany.

Cricketers to get a new clubhouse

BOWLED OVER: An artist's impression of the new clubhouse which has now been approved by council planners

PLANS for a £650,000 overhaul of Harlow Cricket Club's ageing facilities have been approved by councillors.

The club, which plays in Shepherd Neame Essex League Division One, has been granted permission to build a new clubhouse and car park at its two grounds in Marigolds – the team's home for more than 150 years.

The structure, designed by local architect Christopher Snow, will be built to English Cricket Board standards and will feature four changing rooms, an umpire's room, club lounge, licensed bar, toilets and an office.

Parts of the new building will also be available for public hire and used to host live music and entertainment throughout the year, helping to cement the club's position at the heart of the local community.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Club president Alan Howick said members of Harlow Council's development management committee had been "bowled over" by the plans.

"They complemented the design and appearance of the proposals and also congratulated the club for its work to encourage local Harlow children and their families to take up cricket," he said.

"One councillor went so far as to say the clubs ground was the jewel in the crown for the town of Harlow!"

Most of the funding for the project will be provided using money from the substantial financial legacy bequeathed to the club by former president Vince Dunn, who passed away in 2005.

HCC will also be applying for grants from organisations including the ECB, Sport England and the Big Society Fund.

Mr Howick said: "This exciting project will allow for four cricket teams to have their own changing rooms and showers for every game and provide a new club room and bar.

"It has all been designed in a traditional manner to enhance the beautiful setting that is Marigolds, the home of Harlow Cricket Club for well over 150 years."

He added: "I'm so proud of our club. The membership is growing fast, from five year olds upwards.

"We have enough home-grown cricketers to fill five teams every weekend and also dozens of colts (under 16s), so we desperately need this new facility for the next generations of cricketers in our town.

"Marigolds has been the home of Harlow Cricket for so many years and this will mean it stays that way for many more to come."

Road teams busy filling potholes

ROAD repair teams have filled more than 20,000 potholes across Essex since the beginning of July, according to county highways chiefs.

Progress on the work, which is costing some £11m, was reported by county councillor Derrick Louis, cabinet member for highways and transportation.

The work started during the summer and is scheduled to finish in May of next year.

Addressing members of the county's economic development, environment and highways policy and scrutiny committee, Cllr Louis also provided an update on a number of other recent developments including the creation of new highways panels.

A dozen have now been set up – one for each district in Essex including Harlow – to give local communities and councillors a key role in recommending improvement schemes in their area.

The county council has also announced it will be carrying out a review of its speed management policy. It will cover the criteria for 20mph limits and zones, 40mph limits in rural areas and speed limits outside schools.

Badger slaughter 'will not prevent the spread of TB'

MEMBERS of a Harlow wildlife group are urging the public to support an online campaign calling for a halt to plans for a badger cull in England.

Harlow Badger Group is encouraging people to sign an e-petition which was started after the Department of Environment, Food and Rural Affairs approved plans to reduce numbers of the protected species in certain areas of the country.

The trial cull, which will give licensed farmers and landowners living in parts of Somerset and Gloucester permission to shoot 70 per cent of badgers on their land, has been sanctioned in a bid to curb the spread of bovine tuberculosis, a disease which can be carried by badgers and resulted in the slaughter of 26,000 cows last year.

But Harlow Badger Group chairman Derek Barry said it was not the way to solve the problem.

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"It is extremely frustrating that, despite scientific evidence proving that this is an ineffective way of solving the problem, they are still going ahead with the cull," he said.

"There is no guarantee that only badgers carrying TB will be shot. Many healthy animals will be killed while infected ones will be disturbed, which will only increase the problem as they move around.

"It is also extremely inhumane as many will not be killed outright and will end up going back underground with their injuries to die a slow and agonising death."

Opponents of the cull, which has been condemned by animal welfare groups and celebrities including television naturalist Sir David Attenborough and Queen guitarist Brian May, estimate it will wipe out thousands of the species.

However, Harlow MP Robert Halfon defended the Government's decision, calling it a 'no-win' situation.

"I think this is a tragedy either way," he said. "Either badgers are being culled or 26,000 cows are being killed.

"This is a pilot study and I think the Government is right to be doing it as the most important thing is finding out what the scientific evidence shows. Previous tests have indicated that the vaccination doesn't always work so it is important that we find out what does.

"No-one is doing this because they want to, but unfortunately it has come to a point where they have to."

But Mr Barry insisted: "The solution is vaccination, not senseless slaughter. It is absolutely sickening."

The petition has already attracted more 121,000 signatures, more than enough to trigger a debate in the House of Commons. "It shows just how strongly people feel about this," said Mr Barry.

To sign the petition visit <http://epetitions.direct.gov.uk/petitions/38257>.

Shoppers get a chance to take tea with the bishop

TEA, coffee and a chat were on the menu at a Harlow café when the Bishop of Chelmsford popped in to talk to shoppers.

The Rt Rev Stephen Cottrell spent a couple of hours in Morelli's Café in the Harvey Centre to offer his views on religion, the church or anything else on people's minds.

The visit was organised by local faith group Heart 4 Harlow in support of the national Back to Church Sunday campaign, which aims to encourage more people to go to church this Sunday (September 30).

"I love talking with people," said the bishop. "It's always good to hear their reflections and it has been great to meet people in Harlow.

"Over mugs of tea and coffee I have been inviting people to church or to come back to church and passing on a great invitation!"

Heart 4 Harlow founder and town centre chaplain Rev Robert Findlay added: "It was a good opportunity for people to tell the bishop what they think and to express their hopes for the future of the Harlow community."

WIN Family tickets to enjoy thrills and spills of the Big Top

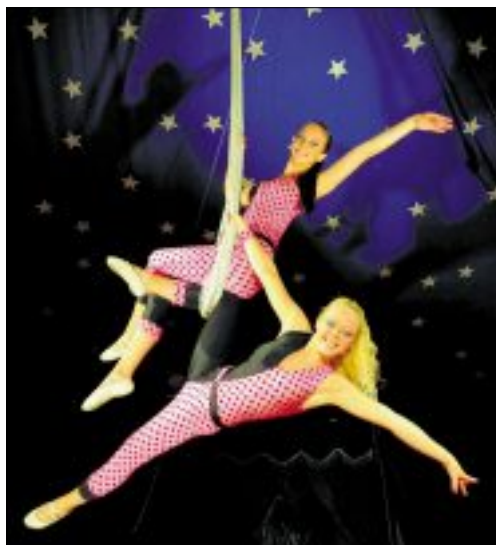

THIS is a very special year for all at Jay Miller's Circus, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary of presenting first class, live and traditional family entertainment.

Circus appeals to all ages and Jay Miller's strives to bring fresh talented artists to the Big Top every year.

Jay Miller's is heading back to Harlow Town Park next month and this week we are giving you the chance to win one of 25 family tickets – each worth £80 – to the show.

Among the array of talent presented in this year's production are whirlwind roller skaters Duo Marinescu, direct from their contract in Las Vegas.

High in the roof of the Big Top and appearing for the first time with Jay Miller's Circus is death defying solo trapeze artist Miss Khishgijargal from Mongolia. From the UK shores comes Joel Hatton with a dazzling display on his array of unicycles and a dizzy plate-spinning routine. And back by popular demand is that lovable, clown Peppi. No-one knows what's in store when he appears so watch out and prepare to be volunteered!

Also on the bill are rolla supreme Florian Carabin, the Miller sisters Charlotte, Jodi and Paige, the amazing Slinky with Miss Zsofia, and hand balancer Miss Monika.

And keeping everything running smoothly will be ringmaster Ross Farrer, who also celebrates a 25th anniversary this year – his birthday!

Fun and entertainment are the two main factors of Jay Miller's 25th anniversary show, so join in and experience the atmosphere of pure circus.

To take part in this competition, all you have to do is answer this simple question:

From which country does solo trapeze artist Miss Khishgijargal come?

To enter, visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the Competitions link under the 'Newspaper' tab. Be sure to enter 'Star Jay Miller's Circus' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

The closing date for entries is noon on Wednesday, October 3.

CIRCUS SHOWTIMES

(Friday, October 5 - Sunday, October 14)

Friday 5th: 7pm only. Saturdays & Sundays: 2pm & 5pm. Weekdays: 5pm & 7.30pm. No show on Monday 8th.

Denis the Menace is a real cat burglar

A THIEF responsible for stealing hundreds of items from homes and gardens in a town has finally been unmasked as a mischievous moggie called Denis!

The two-year-old puss has embarked on a one-cat crimewave lasting almost 18 months.

Dubbed 'Denis the Menace' by his neighbourhood victims, the fleet-footed feline has pilfered a mountain of clothes, toys and household goods from homes across the area.

His impressive haul includes paintbrushes, boxer shorts, socks, car sponges, gloves, a football and even a bath towel.

Embarrassed owner Kim Newman, who has had rescue cat Denis since he was six weeks old, regularly has local residents knocking on her door to reclaim their missing possessions.

"I let him and my other cat, Eddie, out for the first time when they were six-months-old," she told reporters. "It was just a week after that when Denis brought his first things home. It started off as a sock and some paper, but gradually escalated.

"It wasn't just lighter items like a pair of pants. There were heavier things such as a Barbie doll and a bath towel."

The most expensive item taken by Denis was a designer Fred Perry polo shirt. On another occasion he made off with a woman's sandal from a nearby garden - and returned a week later to take the other one!

Vicky Halls, an expert in cat behaviour, suggested one possible reason for Denis's actions.

"There are so many different theories on why cats steal but I think it's a basic hunting instinct," she said. "Denis has become a bit of a huntaholic!"

Dead sheep trio handed animal ban

A HARLOW man has been given a suspended jail sentence and banned from keeping animals for an indefinite period after three sheep in his care starved to death.

Robert Dodge (37), of Waterhouse Moor, was one of three defendants who admitted causing the animals unnecessary suffering at a farm in Chelmsford.

The owners of the animals – Scott Green (41), of Ongar, and Martin Mitchell (59), of Waltham Abbey – also pleaded guilty to the charges and were handed similar bans and suspended prison sentences.

Chelmsford Magistrates Court heard the offences came to light when a member of the public spotted the dead animals while looking through a hedge at the farm.

When RSPCA officials visited the site on April 23 to carry out an investigation, they found the carcasses of the three sheep inside a shelter.

They also noted problems with the welfare of other animals living on the farm, including pigs, goats and alpacas.

Stuart Cooper, prosecuting on behalf of the RSPCA, told the court that post-mortems carried out on two of the severely emaciated sheep showed the animals had starved to death over a 10-day period.

He added inspectors believed other animals being kept in the same paddock – which included peacocks, pigs and a Highland bull – may have taken the sheep's food.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Hannah Wyatt, representing Green and Mitchell, told the court they had acted immediately after receiving information about the animals' welfare from Mr Dodge.

She said both men had assumed Mr Dodge, who had told them he had experience of looking after sheep, knew what he was doing.

Ms Wyatt added that at the time of the incident Mr Green's baby daughter had serious health issues and Mr Mitchell, the general manager, was running another business.

"He was working an 18-hour day seven days a week during that period and had little time for anything else, although he did go to the farm," she said. "They had kept the animals as pets," she said.

She continued: "Both are extremely remorseful for what happened. It was an isolated incident relating to a number of animals they had."

Dodge, who was not represented during the earlier part of the hearing, told magistrates he should have realised the animals were underweight.

"I fed the animals twice daily and I was not aware of any problems," he said. "If there were any problems I would contact Mr Green and Mr Mitchell direct."

"I am entirely sorry for any suffering caused to the animals."

Don't end up in the jaws of loan sharks

A CAMPAIGN to persuade people not to unlicensed moneylenders has been launched in Harlow. The initiative, launched by the Harlowsave Credit Union, warns of the dangers of borrowing money from loan sharks whilst encouraging people to seek financial advice before they end up in debt.

Harlowsave Credit Union manager Jenny Smith said: "This campaign can benefit everyone in Harlow although is particularly aimed at young people."

"We want to advise them against borrowing money from loan sharks – which could just be a friend or someone in the community – as it often ends up only making the situation worse."

"We are encouraging more people to join the credit union so we can provide information and guidance on managing their finances and spending responsibly."

Labour Parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride, pictured left at the official campaign launch, said it was often the most vulnerable that were hit the hardest.

"It is so important that we raise awareness of the activities of loan sharks in Harlow," she said.

"People, especially young people who can be most at risk, need to understand the risks they are taking by going to a loan shark and be aware of the help and better alternatives out there, such as credit unions."

LATTON GREEN, WILLIAM MARTIN & PURFORD GREEN Every little helps . . . and schoolchildren are reaping the rewards of the Tesco Vouchers for Schools scheme after being handed new sports kit, science equipment and writing materials by the supermarket chain.

Staff and pupils from Latton Green, William Martin and Purford Green primaries picked up their new equipment during a presentation attended by Harlow MP Robert Halfon on Friday.

Each school had been picked at random to receive an extra box of freebies as part of the scheme..

Diane Harper, charity champion at Tesco's Church Langley store where the presentations took place, said: "It went really well and the kids that came along for the presentation were extremely well-behaved. They were a real credit to their schools.

"It is always lovely to be able to give our local schools a helping hand and something we do every year."

BURNT MILL ACADEMY

Budding young hobbits indulged in their own second breakfast to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the publication of J.R.R. Tolkien's classic fantasy story.

The pupils, who are all members of the First Avenue school's reading club, were some of thousands around the country to be munching on bacon and sausage rolls at 11am last Friday as part of the nationwide initiative to celebrate the anniversary.

The group were then each given copies of the book to get stuck into over the school term.

"We are always trying to promote reading at the school with various initiatives," said deputy head Charlie McCarthy.

"As well as enjoying a hobbit's second breakfast, the reading club have been taking part in newspaper reading sessions and a 50-book challenge. It has been brilliant and they are all really enjoying the scheme."

MORE than 250 visitors attended Burnt Mill Academy's open evening last week.

The school, which had to add an extra Year 7 class this September to accommodate the increase in demand for places, achieved its best GCSE results over the summer with 72 per cent of students attaining five or more A* to C grades in subjects including English and maths.

Headteacher Helena Mills said she believed the school's increased popularity reflected its record-breaking results.

"We were massively oversubscribed last year and expect the same again this year as our results and reputation continue to grow," she explained.

"We were so inundated with visitors on our open evening that our field and the local church had to be opened for parking!"

STEWARDS ACADEMY Hundreds of youngsters and their parents took the opportunity to find out more about life at the Parnall Road school during its annual open day.

Visitors were greeted by staff and student members of the school council before being given a guided tour of their school.

Later in the evening headteacher Rhonda Murthar spoke of the school's recent exam successes and other achievements during the past academic year.

"Many of the visitors during the day commented on the calm, purposeful, orderly atmosphere around the school and the maturity, enthusiasm and pride of their prefect escorts," said Ms Murthar.

"They were also particularly struck by the confidence of the pupil speakers."

She added: "The open day was certainly deemed to be very successful by everyone involved and we would advise anyone who was unable to make it that they are welcome to contact us to arrange another visit very soon."

ORGANISERS of an educational film festival are urging Harlow schools to book their free cinema tickets.

National Schools Film Week is a curriculum-linked film event which aims to develop greater understanding amongst young people about the cinematic world in a way that supports classroom teaching.

Running nationally from October 15- 26, schools are able to apply for tickets to a number of special screenings running throughout the week at Harlow Cineworld in the Queensgate Centre. Each will be supported with an online library of resources addressing issues raised.

For more information or to reserve tickets, visit www.nationalschoolsfilmweek.org.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20

This can turn out to be a lively week with lots of twists and turns. You are being asked to become more mindful of the needs of others. Yet you may ask yourself how mindful are they of you? There may be some bright encounters, but also some very edgy ones. If you feel the need to speak up, you will probably find it quite hard to keep your counsel. Call me now for more news and advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21

Your ruler Venus is not on very happy terms with Mars. This can show itself when you encounter someone who seems to want to ride roughshod over your feelings. Or will you be tempted to talk tough, when really you feel a tender inside? If you get involved in politics, it can leave you frazzled. Look to create some soothing private time. Call your prediction line for more news and advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21

Jupiter in your sign, really sparkles in its link to your guide planet Mercury, and your quick wits and personality can light up any occasion. If you buy or sell, you can do exceptionally well. If you enjoy writing or have your own website or blog, here too you can dazzle. This can be a very lively time, so hold onto your hat, it's unlikely to be dull. Call me now for more news and advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23

If you are someone who loves to explore spirituality, in all its many forms, today can be wonderful for making some stunning connections, or talking to someone who has an enlightened outlook. Yet this is a week which can throw up some unexpected demands, and just when you might prefer to quietly reflect, external pressures can come calling. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23

There can be some fizzing developments with fellow parents, within your community, or around charitable exploits. The pace of this week can also be white hot, and if you like lots of mental stimulation, try to push yourself to look at new forms of information, experience a greater degree of frustration. With and sparking off like minded folks. Extra for exercise can fend off stress. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

You can be particularly enterprising this week, and this can see you do well around a small enterprise, or to do your own thing this week. Even if you are usually sensible have long aspired to be confident in your application. Shared finances can be more unpredictable. In love, you may find yourself having a sudden attraction, but this may not be long lasting. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23

This can be a real lift off moment, a time when you can gain real momentum. Mercury in your sign also forces a very positive link to fortune bringer Jupiter, and this encourages you to be true to yourself, especially around any individualistic ideas you have. People can be very receptive. If you teach, train, sell or market, you can truly shine. Call me now for more news and advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22

This week can be brilliant for doing background research. It doesn't really matter if this is to get the low down on a new domestic appliance, the family tree, or working out your options job-wise. Stealth can work as well as a more upfront approach. This is also a time to become more mindful of how your psychological wellbeing feeds into your physical vitality. Call your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21

Your knack for networking can hold you in great stead, with a great deal of buzzy interaction. Yet with the Sun going opposite Uranus, this can also be a time of sudden changes socially. New friendships can take on extra lustre, or you can be drawn to off the wall of innovative people. Unfortunately, money and friendships may not mix so well. Call for your financial forecast...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20

With Mars and Venus at a tense right angle, issues can ping into the open around relationships, just when you least expect them. Yet shining in your professional situation, you can feel much more progressive. In fact, a random piece of good fortune could throw up a great opportunity. Yet this may unsettle any plans that you already had in place. Call your special prediction line for more news and advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19

Your desire to break free of everyday burdens, can get a lot stronger this week. The upside of this is that this can give you the spark to push beyond your comfort zone. The like lots of mental stimulation, try to push yourself to look at new forms of information, experience a greater degree of frustration. With and sparking off like minded folks. Extra for exercise can fend off stress. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20

Nobody likes to be beholden to others, and especially not over money, and you may find yourself wanting to do your own thing this week. Even if you are usually sensible have long aspired to be confident in your application. Shared finances can be more unpredictable. In love, you may find yourself having a sudden attraction, but this may not be long lasting. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Two-for-one bill brings twice the enjoyment

HARLOW has long been blessed with some talented playwrights, none more so than Andrew Prangnell.

His two one-act plays – To Be Someone and The Last Dance – staged at Victoria Hall Theatre certainly served to enhance his reputation.

To Be Someone, a reworking of an original 2004 play, is an acerbic take on celebrities famous for being celebrities.

When a sad, unnamed woman living alone in a London flat wins a competition to have a celebrity visit her at home, her excitement knows no bounds. But her delight soon turns to disillusionment when Suzi, the C-list celeb, arrives with her PA and turns out to be a self-centred, egotistic, coke-snorting airhead.

The beauty of the play is that while being very funny with some great set pieces, the emptiness of being famous for no recognisable reason is made very clear.

Nobody does comedy paths better than Jane Prangnell (the director's sister) and her ever-changing facial expressions and body language as her emotions went from awe to disgust were a joy to behold.

Her sceptical friend Leah, played by Ellie Darby-Prangnell (Andrew's daughter), whizzed around in her wheelchair to great effect, timing her lines immaculately, particularly with a running gag involving text messages.

Andrea Thorpe, as Suzi, gave an appropriately over-the-top performance as an amalgam of any number of self-centred non-talented celebrities, while Gemma Lee was pitch-perfect as Sian, her put-upon Irish PA, looking elegant and with a spot-on accent.

The Last Dance, a monologue performed immaculately by Linda Clarke, was another portrait of a lonely woman who, having had a number of loveless affairs over the years, finally finds her true love in ballroom dancing.

When her husband takes early retirement following a heart attack, he offers to go to dance class with her. But her current dance partner is also her lover, and when offered the opportunity to live with him in his half-built cottage or to stay in her comfortable home she has a tough choice to make – and the audience are treated to a macabre twist as she makes her decision.

For one person to hold the stage and our interest for 40 minutes is testament to both playwright and actor. Linda Clarke's naturalistic performance was brilliantly observed, totally credible and highly entertaining... and did great service to the script.

Playwright Prangnell has written five previous plays – let's hope he writes many more.

Bernard Moule

Theatre the scene for a crime double

By CHRIS MOSS

VICTORIA Hall's celebration of the one-act play concludes this week – and it would be criminal to miss it.

A week after staging Andrew Prangnell's back-to-back comedy-dramas, the Bury Road theatre presents a deliciously dark double-header from fellow local playwright Simon Mawdsley, with two short plays looking at crime from the perspectives of both villain and victim.

"I've always been a big fan of crime thrillers and my enthusiasm for the genre is undoubtedly reflected in a lot of my work," said Simon. "These are two short plays that I'm very proud of and although they are both crime-focused, they are very different."

In black comedy Housebound – adapted from a short play Simon wrote around 10 years ago – an agoraphobic housewife is taken hostage by a reluctant villain, with a tense yet touching rapport developing between captor and captive as the desperate minutes tick by.

Dead Wait, described by the playwright

ON STAGE: Martin Bedwell, Wendy Grant and Caroline Petherbridge star in Housebound

as a taut psychological thriller, is a much darker tale, in which detectives lock horns with a murder suspect hauled in for questioning following the discovery of a body.

"I'm hoping there'll be something for everyone," said Simon.

"Housebound is more of a comedy and it's something I've really enjoyed revisiting and rewriting, not least because the victim, who spends most of the play tied to a chair, is being played by my wife!

"Dead Wait, meanwhile, is much darker. It's a real nailbiter and will give audiences something completely different after the interval."

He added: "It's great that Victoria Hall Theatre is giving local playwrights like myself and Andrew the chance to put on our own work."

"It's great to have that kind of support and encouragement from your local theatre and can only help inspire other would-be writers to have a go themselves"

Performances run until Saturday, starting at 8pm. Tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) and can be reserved by calling 07973 376762.

WIN Tickets to Popaganda at Harlow Playhouse

If you love alternative comedy and satire, you'll love Richard DeDominici and his new show, Popaganda.

This clever, political, tremendously funny and accessible show promises to be frighteningly effective. If you were to cross Mark Thomas with Armando Iannucci, this is what you'd get.

If you like risky and confrontational street pranks, surreal mash-ups and comedy that pushes the boundaries, Popaganda is for you. And this week we are giving you the chance to win one of 25 pairs of tickets for Popaganda at Harlow Playhouse next Wednesday (October 3).

For your chance to win a pair of tickets, simply answer this question: Who wrote Popaganda?

a. Richard Branson
b. Richard DeDominici
c. Richard Wilson

To enter, visit www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the Competitions link under the 'Newspaper' tab. Be sure to enter 'Star Popaganda' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted. The closing date for entries is noon on Monday, October 1.

It runs until October 4 and admission is free.

LOOPER certificate 15, 1h58m

SEVEN years ago writer-director Rian Johnson made a big splash with his ambitious debut, Brick, a classic noir detective story set in a modern-day California high school.

The Maryland-born film-maker is back on fine form with this ingeniously plotted thriller that exploits the gaping plot holes afforded by time travel.

"Time travel has not been invented yet but in 30 years from now it will have been," explains Joe (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), an assassin or

'looper' whose task is to gun down hooded targets who have been sent back in time by his mob bosses, represented by the sadistic Abe (Jeff Daniels).

Silver bars are strapped to the backs of each target as payment for the pull of a trigger. Once Joe has incinerated the lifeless body, he stashes his spoils in a hidden floor-space of his swanky apartment.

Like his fellow loopers, Joe knows his life expectancy is finite and one fateful day he will gun down his future self.

Needless to say, it's crucial that loopers do not allow sentiment to cloud their judgment in case their older incarnations dodge the bullet and run amok, altering the course of the future.

So when Joe hesitates from his bloody duties and allows the 'future' Joe (Bruce Willis) to escape, the race between hunter and hunted begins in earnest.

Looper demands constant vigilance from the audience to keep track of alternate, intersecting timelines.

It's all meticulously planned and stylishly executed, realising Marty McFly's worst nightmare from the Back To The Future series by allowing a hero to co-exist with his future self in the same timeframe.

The ripple effect leads to a simple yet striking flourish: wounds inflicted on a young protagonist simultaneously manifest as scars on the older self.

This temporal torture allows the characters to cleverly communicate with each other by scoring letters and symbols into their own flesh.

Looper reunites Johnson with Gordon-Levitt, his leading man in Brick, who dons disconcerting prosthetics to match the physicality of Willis.

Plot mechanics trump performances so Gordon-Levitt's usual intensity is muted while Willis plays to his strengths as an action man.

A slow-motion final reckoning is spectacular, benefiting from slick digital effects. And Johnson ties up as many loose ends as possible to close the loop on potential sequels.

Bruce back from the future

>>still on screen

KILLING THEM SOFTLY Low-level crook Johnny Amato (Vincent Curatola) learns that mob man Markie Trattman (Ray Liotta) staged a robbery at one of his own card games in order to steal the pot. Amato hatches a cunning plan to rob another card game and point the finger of suspicion squarely at Markie, hiring Frankie (Scoot McNairy) and unreliable junkie Russell (Ben Mendelsohn) to pull off the heist. Against the odds Frankie and Russell manage to hold up the game card and make off with the booty. But then mob go-between Driver (Richard Jenkins) calls in hit man Jackie Cogan (Brad Pitt) to identify the perpetrators and make them pay. Naturally, Markie is the prime suspect for the robbery but Jackie likes to be thorough and he searches for other likely candidates, hiring another assassin, Mickey (James Gandolfini), to do the dirty work. When Russell spills the beans about who really knocked off the card game, Jackie swiftly moves into action.

THE HOUSE AT THE END OF THE STREET Sarah (Elisabeth Shue) is still smarting from an acrimonious divorce and moves into a new house in an idyllic rural town with her pretty daughter, Elissa (Jennifer Lawrence). But when strange events begin to happen, Sarah and Elissa learn the house next door was once a murder scene. A young woman killed her parents there and left her brother, Ryan (Max Thieriot), as the sole survivor of the carnage. Sarah is understandably reluctant to allow Elissa to forge a friendship with Ryan but her daughter is drawn to the reclusive, venturing into the house stained by the blood of the past. Behind locked doors lie terrifying secrets and Elissa quickly realises that unspeakable evil lurks within her neighbourhood.

THE SWEENEY DI Jack Regan (Ray Winstone) and sidekick George Carter (Ben Drew) are on the trail of a gang of wily European thieves led by slippery Francis Allen (Paul Anderson). After apprehending Allen, the team cannot find sufficient evidence to charge him and are forced to let him go after hours of intense questioning. Tensions within the department explode when internal affairs officer Ivan Lewis (Steve Mackintosh) embarks on a personal crusade to bring down Regan, who just happens to be bedding Lewis's wife Nancy (Hayley Atwell).

HOPE SPRINGS Arnold Soames (Tommy Lee Jones) and his wife Kay (Meryl Streep) celebrate their latest wedding anniversary by buying each other cable television subscriptions. The couple's children Brad (Ben Rappaport) and Molly (Marin Ireland) sense all is not well, but Arnold appears unconcerned, content to stick to the same routines and sleep in a separate room to his wife. Kay is deeply unhappy and in desperation uses her savings to buy a series of intensive couples counselling sessions with Dr Bernie Feld (Steve Carell), who runs the courses from his offices in coastal Maine.

PARANORMAN (3D & 2D) When a small town comes under siege by zombies, who are you going to call? Well if you've got any sense it will be misunderstood local boy Norman (voiced by Kodi Smit-McPhee), who speaks with the dead and is told by deranged uncle Prenderghast (John Goodman) he is the only person who can save the town from a centuries-old witch's curse.

BRAVE (2D only) Determined to make her own path in life, Princess Merida (voiced by Kelly Macdonald) defies a custom that brings chaos to her kingdom.

THE CAMPAIGN certificate 15, 1h25m

TIMED neatly to coincide with the race for the White House between Barack Obama and Mitt Romney, Jay Roach's political comedy explores the lengths that spin doctors will go to get their candidates elected.

Sleazy, self-serving congressman Cam Brady (Will Ferrell) has represented North California for four terms and is poised to be re-elected for a fifth stint, despite numerous affairs behind the back of his wife.

When his brazen promiscuity finally comes to the attention of voters, power brokers Glenn (John Lithgow) and Wade (Dan Aykroyd) decide to throw their support behind a rival candidate, shy and retiring Marty Huggins (Zach Galifianakis), who runs the local tourism centre.

Campaign manager Tim Wattle (Dylan McDermott) is drafted in to give Marty, his wife Mitzi (Sarah Baker) and their two children a makeover to ensure they are a viable alternative to the slickly marketed Brady bandwagon.

As Marty begins to make inroads into Brady's voting heartland, tension between the rivals intensifies and the back-stabbing escalates out of control.

RESIDENT EVIL: RETRIBUTION certificate 15, 1h35m

ALICE (Milla Jovovich) continues her battle against the shadowy Umbrella Corporation in the fifth instalment of the horror franchise. At the conclusion of Resident Evil: Afterlife, Alice found herself on board a spaceship repelling hordes of heavily armed Umbrella soldiers.

The vessel explodes and Alice plummets into icy waters below, waking some time later as a prisoner in a subterranean facility.

Ada Wong (Bingbing Li), the right-hand woman of Albert Wesker (Shawn Roberts) helps Alice to escape her confinement and it transpires that an artificial intelligence called the Red Queen has usurped Wesker as head honcho of the corporation and is already amassing forces to eradicate mankind.

The only hope is for Alice, Ada and a team of soldiers led by Jill Valentine (Sienna Guillory) and Rain (Michelle Rodriguez) to battle through the facility, shut down the Red Queen and stop the spread of the T-virus once and for all.

Location Tunnmeade, Harlow

Category Three-bedroom terrace

Additional Much improved with loft conversion, porch extension, downstairs WC/shower room

Guide price £200,000

Agent Intercounty, 37-39 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 639666

Stylishly-improved family home with loft conversion

THIS week's cover property is a three-bedroom house in Tunnmeade, Harlow, which offers great value for money, having been updated to a high standard with a loft conversion, porch extension and downstairs cloakroom/shower room.

There is also a good-size lounge, luxury kitchen/diner and a large family bathroom.

The entrance porch has two windows to the front and side with a double glazed front door and tiled flooring. It opens into the entrance hall. Leading off this is the shower room, lounge and kitchen.

The lounge has been equipped with an integrated home cinema system, projector and remote screen, a price for which which can be negotiated separately with the vendor.

The kitchen overlooks the front of the house and has a range of matching wall and base units with granite work surfaces. There is a five-burner AEG hob with extractor above and an integrated double oven/microwave, dishwasher and fridge/freezer as well as space for a washing machine.

Upstairs on the first floor landing there are two windows to the front and a built-in desk with matching cupboard. Stairs lead up to the loft conversion and there are doors off to two bedrooms and a bathroom.

The third bedroom on the second floor has three Velux windows and storage cupboards in the eaves. The property features gas central heating and double glazed windows and doors.

The area to the front of the property is mainly laid to lawn with a shingle area and a path leading to the porch. The rear garden has a large patio area with the remainder mainly laid to lawn with shrub borders. There is a large timber shed with power and there is also garden lighting.

Contact the Harlow office of selling agents Intercounty on (01279) 639666 to arrange a viewing.

No onward chain for £174,950

LOCATED at Parsonage Leys in Harlow, this terraced house has a large garden and has recently been fitted with new solar panels. With three bedrooms, a good-size lounge and large kitchen, there is plenty of space for a family. The kitchen features an extensive range of worktops as well as wall and base units with space for a table and chairs. Centurion has this property on its books and it is offered for sale with no onward chain. Call (01279) 417234 for full details or to arrange an appointment to view.

On the market at £325,000

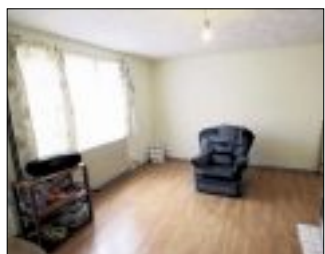

THIS very pretty townhouse in Sun Street, Sawbridgeworth, is within easy reach of the village town and mainline train station.

The accommodation is laid out over three floors and there are three double bedrooms with an en-suite to the master. There is also a downstairs cloakroom and a garage.

The rear garden includes a patio area with the remainder laid to lawn with shingle borders. The garden is enclosed by panel fencing and there is pedestrian rear access.

Call selling agents Charles David Casson Estates on (01279) 600722 for full details.

Guide price of £114,000 - £120,000

WITH just a little attention this mid-terrace property could become your ideal home. Located in Cannons Brook and within easy reach of Harlow town centre, the property is great value and is on the market chain-free. There are three bedrooms and a good size lounge/diner. The rear garden includes a paved area and is laid to lawn with flower and shrub borders. There is panel fencing and gated rear access. Call Haart on (01279) 443311 if you would like to book a viewing appointment.

Yours for £339,950

IN a quiet cul-de-sac location at Greygoose Park in Harlow, this detached property has been improved and extended to create a delightful family home.

There are three reception rooms and four bedrooms, with an en-suite shower room and a family bathroom.

Outside there is a neat rear garden with additional sunny terrace and off-street parking for two cars. There is also a large garage with remote controlled door.

Call Mackay Property Agents on (01279) 600567 for further details.

Deciding on Price (Part Two)

We know that house prices have rocketed over decades, and then declined slightly and they are now in the region of 9.5% below their 2007 peak. However, establishing an accurate asking price that will optimise your chances of selling at the highest likely price within a reasonable timescale is both an art and a science.

Estate agents valuations can vary tremendously. Some agents attempt to win your instruction by flattering you with a high but unrealistic suggested asking price beware! Some, due to inexperience or unfamiliarity with current buyer trends, haven't got a clue and get it plain wrong which can cost you time and money. Some are more responsible and advise the right price from day one.

We take the pricing issue very seriously, and much consideration is involved before we recommend an asking price.

As a rule of thumb, ask two or three reputable agents to suggest the optimum market value and base your pricing decision on these valuations - if not your choice of agent. It is important that you quote the right price from day one and achieve or exceed it, rather than quoting a high price and then encouraging low offers. The wrong price attracts the wrong buyers (particularly in this market), and fewer suitable buyers view the property thereby minimising the chance of receiving an offer in any event.

Ultimately the critical part is to select your estate agent on the strength of their service, reputation and marketing plan - not simply on their valuation or commission rate. After all you're going to be working in partnership with them so choose the agent you prefer!

If you are considering selling your property and would like a carefully considered and qualified view of the likely sale price of your property in the current market, then please feel free to contact us on 01279 444988.

Commercial Property Feature

Coke Gearing open new Harlow office

CHARTERED surveyors Coke Gearing, are pleased to announce the opening of a second office at Harlow Business Park to complement the services offered from the head office in Bishop's Stortford. In these difficult times it is important to be local and be able to offer a flexible service base with up-to-date market knowledge.

For this reason, and to service the steady increase in the volume of our Harlow instructions, we have decided to take the somewhat counter-cyclical move of opening a new presence in the town.

We see Harlow as being 'open for business' following the establishment of the Enterprise Zone and the forthcoming review of planning legislation. Despite difficult market conditions, there appears to be a steady appetite for commercial property and for related professional advice and we feel that it is important to be able to offer a genuinely local alternative to more established providers.

The Harlow operation – at Suite 128, Greenway Business centre, Harlow Business park – will be run by associate director Adam Tindall with assistance from Louise Campbell.

Our telephone and email contact details remain the same for both offices – (01279) 758758 and www.cokegearing.co.uk.

Be your own boss at HBC

TRADITIONALLY during the summer months commercial letting is slow, but Harlow Business Centre has been kept busy with new lets and existing businesses on site choosing to either downsize/upsite within rather than move to a different location.

We continue to have a 95 per cent-plus occupancy rate and have many tenants who have been with us for years, some of whom have moved to different units on site according to their business needs.

There are many growing challenges faced by the self-employed and small businesses. Being self-employed is a key aspiration for many and the team at Harlow Business Centre can act quickly and help to progress your business ideas to fruition.

We look forward to the chance to discuss your requirements in detail. Our no-nonsense approach to letting units means that you can rely on us for support at a time when things can get very hectic.

At a recent networking event for tenants, Mike Allen of Hi Tech Resources Ltd – an air conditioning, refrigeration and ventilation company which recently moved into a business unit on site – commented: "Moving into the Harlow Business Centre has been the best decision we have made during the set-up phase of our business. A great community spirit resides and the management team is excellent."

If you would like affordable business premises within a friendly, professional and secure centre, please call our centre manager on (01279) 429644 or visit www.harlowbusinesscentre.co.uk.

By Iain Dooley

PUTTING the hot into hot hatch is the C63 AMG Coupe, a three-door version of Mercedes' popular C-Class saloon.

In its own right it's a potent machine. Drive goes to the rear wheels unlike mainstream GTI-badged cars, which is handy when you've got a 457 horsepower, 6.2-litre V8 under the bonnet.

But why stop at 457 when, as a car maker, you also sell the SLS AMG? This is significant because it uses the same V8 engine, only AMG tweaks the output further to 517 horsepower. There are hot hatches and then there's the C63 AMG Coupe Black Series.

Adding the 'Black Series' moniker to an AMG car has, historically, singled it out for special treatment. It's been done before, with past versions of the CLK and SL gaining a heap more power, a bodykit and sizeable rear wing into the bargain.

The good news is the C63 Coupe continues this fine tradition of delivering laugh-out-loud ballistic performance. But seriously, what do you expect from a car boasting wide track, muscular wheel arches and an exhaust note with the potential to split solid rock at 50 paces?

And the bad news? There is none.

This dark-edged C63 Coupe presents a

Fact File

Mercedes-Benz C63 AMG Coupe Black Series

PRICE
from £98,765

ENGINE: 6.2-litre V8 petrol unit developing 517bhp
TRANSMISSION: 7-speed automatic driving the rear wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 186mph, 0-62mph in 4.2 secs
ECONOMY: 23.2mpg
CO² RATING: 286g/km

more muscular face to the world. A C63 that's been gorging on spinach Popeye-style, this isn't a car for shrinking violets.

And the extrovert theme continues inside, with competition-inspired bucket seats, a flat-bottomed steering wheel and an absence of rear seats – the usual sign that a company is serious about performance.

Realistically, you won't be able to tear around the countryside flat out in this car, which makes the driving and ownership experience as much about the aural and visual thrills as the C63's outright speed. Still, if you're brave enough to point it towards a track, the numbers are deeply impressive.

With considerable help from an engine greatly influenced by the SLS, this C63 Coupe will hit 62mph from rest in 4.2 seconds and bully its way to an electronically limited 186mph. Taking it easy results in an agreeable 23.2mpg and, despite the monster power on offer, the car's CO² rating is a supercar sensible 286g/km.

Predictably, a car like the C63 is all about the driving experience and this C-Class Coupe on steroids doesn't disappoint. You could never class an AMG car as a quiet, reserved option and this particular example couldn't be further from the clichéd velvet punch description if it tried.

Bold, brash and loud on start up, its hard-edged and deep-throated exhaust roar accompanies you everywhere. The compact steering wheel delivers a direct, accurate experience that's full of feedback, while the seven-speed auto gearbox is surprisingly quick despite not being a DSG unit.

The comfort-sport switchable system works well, resulting in some very aggressive shift behaviour for when you're really pressing on, plus the chunky paddles allow for full manual control if you want the complete DIY experience.

An AMG mode allows you to further personalise the gearbox modes and traction control to your liking.

Tested in 'Track Pack' guise complete with aero kit, trick tyres and an oversize rear wing the C63 successfully pulls off the road legal DTM racer look. You're only ever likely to feel the benefit on track, but it's easily worth the six-figure price tag even for the road as the C63 crackles, pops and barks its way into your heart as it chews up and spits out the road ahead of it.

Despite the obvious track focus, AMG's engineers have endowed the car with a ride that's sophisticated enough to cope with major road imperfections yet ensure pitch and roll have been kept to a minimum.

And it really is a case of any gear, anywhere, anytime when it comes to making progress. Packing the trick bits from the SLS, the C63's engine delivers epic levels of acceleration thanks to its huge reserves of power and torque.

That said, this isn't a car that'll hold your hand through the corners. There's plenty of grip when you need it, but drive the C63 like an ape and it will bite. Fortunately the stability systems help rather than hinder, but turn them off and you'll need to be quick.

By definition Black Series cars are rare beasts thanks to their short production runs, which makes the experience that bit more special when you get the chance to grab the wheel.

The SLS might be Mercedes' glamorous halo model, but this C63 is the real deal when it comes to delivering more accessible thrills on our crowded roads.

Visually, aurally and physically entertaining, it's a hot hatch like no other.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF). Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Every Student Matters

Harlow College is extremely ambitious for its students.

The college is currently the number one provider nationally for student success with its sights on being number one in the UK for all quality measures by 2013.

Harlow College is seeking to appoint the following staff:

Quality Improvement Coordinator

The main purpose of this role is to improve the quality and drive up performance with the College's (APEX) partners. To be able to contribute to the function's strategy to develop a network of highly flexible and responsive partners capable of creating opportunities that, whatever the circumstances and without exception, deliver excellence and help build the success and cohesion of the community that APEX serves.

The candidate will have experience of analysis of data and providing quality intervention, along with experience of planning, developing and delivering diverse curriculum models.

Substantial teaching or training experience within work-based learning is essential, accompanied with a teaching qualification and an assessor and verification qualification.

Salary £31,789 to £40,141

The above post is full-time and permanent.

In return the successful candidate can expect investment in their personal and professional development as well as 30 days holiday plus bank holidays, contributory pension scheme and other various benefits.

If you are looking to work within a challenging and fast paced organisation whereby we believe all our people, both staff and students, have the potential to succeed in whatever they set their minds to then this is the role for you.

This college is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, young people and vulnerable adults and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. This post is subject to an enhanced CRB check.

The College is committed to equal opportunities and we welcome applications from all sections of the community.

IET The Institution of Engineering and Technology

Sharing knowledge. Identifying opportunity.

Creative Solutions Sales Executive
£25,000 plus generous commission

The IET (Institution of Engineering and Technology) is one of the world's leading professional societies. With more than 150,000 members in 127 countries, we share and advance knowledge throughout the global engineering and technology community. Now we seek an accomplished media sales professional to sell a host of multi-platform creative solutions to key agency and client accounts.

Responsible for a sales territory, your focus will be on developing new advertising and sponsorship business through new clients - as well as building on existing commercial relationships with customers across our full range of print, digital and interactive resources. Liaising widely to identify opportunities, you will work across a range of engineering sectors, developing sales strategies and solutions which match our media and events capabilities to customers' marketing needs.

Commercially minded and customer driven, your track record of success in client-facing business-to-business sales will include evidence of achieving targets, preferably in media sales or sponsorship, and experience of pitching multi-platform and lead generation solutions. A good lateral thinker and innovator, comfortable talking through on and offline campaigns, you will ideally have knowledge and contacts in the STEM sectors.

To apply, please email your CV and covering letter to opportunities@theiet.org

The Institution of Engineering and Technology is registered as a Charity in England & Wales (no 211014) and Scotland (no SC038698), Michael Faraday House, Six Hills Way, Stevenage, SG1 2AY, United Kingdom.

(A414 Fifth Avenue, A414 Edingburgh Way, A1169 Elizabeth Way & A1019 Fifth Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2012

The Essex County Council (A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout, A414 Fifth Avenue, A414 Edingburgh Way, A1169 Elizabeth Way & A1019 Fifth Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary 30mph Speed Limit) Order 2012

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the orders:

1. To temporarily close that length of A414 Fifth Avenue, A414 Edingburgh Way, A1169 Elizabeth Way & A1019 Fifth Avenue in the District of Harlow, as specified:

Road	Description	Alternative Route
A414 Fifth Avenue (North), Harlow	From its junction with the Burnt Mill Roundabout in a generally north westerly direction for a distance of approximately 100 metres.	A414 Fifth Avenue - Redricks Lane - A1184 Harlow Road - A414 Edingburgh Way and vice versa.
A414 Edingburgh Way, Harlow	From its junction with the Burnt Mill Roundabout, east for a distance of approximately 100 metres.	A414 Edingburgh Way - A414 Howard Way - First Avenue (Mandela Avenue) - A1019 Fifth Avenue (Allende Avenue) and vice versa.
A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow	From its junction with the Burnt Mill Roundabout, west for a distance of approximately 100 metres.	A1169 Elizabeth Way - Fourth Avenue - A1019 Fifth Avenue (Allende Avenue) and vice versa.
A1019 Fifth Avenue (Allende Avenue) (South), Harlow	From its junction with the Burnt Mill Roundabout in a generally south easterly direction for a distance of approximately 100 metres.	A1019 Fifth Avenue (Allende Avenue) (South) - First Avenue (Mandela Avenue) - A414 Howard Way - A414 Edingburgh Way and vice versa.

2. To temporarily impose a 30mph Speed Limit on the following lengths of A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout, A414 Fifth Avenue, A414 Edingburgh Way, A1169 Elizabeth Way & A1019 Fifth Avenue in the District of Harlow, as specified:

Road	Description
A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout, Harlow	Entire roundabout.
A414 Fifth Avenue (North), Harlow	From its junction with A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout in a generally north westerly direction for a distance of 200 metres.
A414 Edingburgh Way, Harlow	From its junction with A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout in an easterly direction for a distance of 200 metres.

A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow	From its junction with A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout in a westerly direction for a distance of 200 metres.

The A1019 & A414 Allende Avenue/Fifth Avenue & A414 Burnt Mill Roundabout is currently subject to 40MPH, A1169 Elizabeth Way is currently subject to 50MPH and A414 Edingburgh Way is currently subject to National Speed Limit. These existing speed limits will be temporarily suspended whilst the temporary 30MPH speed limit is in place.

The closures are scheduled to commence for 10 nights between the hours of 20:30h and 05:00h within an 18 month period starting on 1 October 2012 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting. The temporary speed limit will be in force at all times when works are being carried out and/or appropriate signs are displayed.

The restrictions and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while improvement work is undertaken. Exact dates of the restrictions will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Orders will come into effect on 1 October 2012 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 27 September 2012

Public Notices

The Jerounds Community Learning Trust Statutory Notice

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 19(3) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 that the governing body of Jerounds Junior School intends to make a prescribed alteration to Jerounds Junior School which is a Community School located at Pyenest Road, Harlow, Essex, CM19 4PH

The proposed alteration is to change school category from Community to Foundation and together with one or more of the proposed partners to acquire a trust established otherwise than under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998.

The proposed name of the Trust will be Jerounds Community Learning Trust and the proposed implementation date is 1st January 2013. The trust does not already act as a foundation for any foundation or voluntary school.

The proposed members of the trust are:

- Jerounds Junior school (2 Trustees)
- Partnership Working Consultancy (1 Trustee)
- Pearson Publishing (1 Trustee)
- The Co-operative Movement initially represented by the Co-operative College (1 Trustee)

Jerounds Infants School have confirmed their commitment to working in partnership with the Junior School governing body and may decide to become a formal partner in the Trust at a later stage.

The learners at the school, together with parents, staff, members of the local community and local community organisations will also be able to become members of the Trust. The Trust will have a Stakeholder Forum composed of members, which will be able to appoint two of the Trust's trustees. As the Trust develops the Trust will welcome other schools joining to work together with us.

The rationale for acquiring the Trust, the contribution it will make, and the direction it will provide to the schools can be summarised as:

- Building on the proud history of Jerounds as a school committed to serving our local community;
- Ensuring that we promote high expectations amongst learners, teachers, parents and carers.
- Ensuring that all learners benefit from high quality teaching and learning;
- Using the Trust to help build a strong partnership committed to continuous school improvement;
- Making best use of resources and securing new opportunities to support learning;
- Creating a stronger learning community, working closely with our neighbouring Infant School
- Giving all stakeholders in the community the opportunity to benefit from the shared knowledge, practices and skills of the Trust partners by developing a community based approach to learning.
- Working with parents/carers, professionals and the wider community to promote health and well-being, creating the right conditions for learners to thrive;
- Engaging stakeholders more effectively in our work, especially our parents and carers;
- Improving social cohesion within the community by demonstrating a commitment to co-operative values, including respect, social justice, fairness and democracy.

The co-operative nature of the trust organisation will also open up new networking possibilities at a local, national and international level.

This notice is an extract from the complete proposal. Copies of the full proposal can be obtained from www.jeroundsjun.

org.uk or from the school by writing to the Governing Body (address above) or e-mail: admin@jeroundsjun. essex.sch.uk.

Within four weeks from the date of publication of this proposal any person may object to or make comments on the proposals by sending them to the school at admin@jerounds-jun.essex.sch.uk or in writing to the Governing Body of the school (address above).

Signed: Jon O'Connor, Chair of the Governing Body, Jerounds Junior School

Raiders conclude season with win

SPEEDWAY

RYE House Raiders wrapped up their home National League programme with a 49-41 victory over Stoke – their second over the Potters in the space of six days.

But the Hoddesdon-based side made hard work for themselves in the early stages with a host of dropped points.

James Sarjeant fell on the first bend of Heat 4, Shane Hazelden suffered mechanical problems when third in Heat 5, and Luke Chessell fell while third in Heat 6 and then again when holding second spot in Heat 8.

Those combined misfortunes left the Raiders trailing 21-27, but they rallied to level the score within two races.

It was Stoke's turn to suffer bad luck when Ashley Birks fell while second in Heat 11, with the Raiders taking advantage to secure the first of three 4-2s in the space of four races to build an unsailable 45-39 advantage.

Rye House Raiders scorers were: Jason Garrity 14 (from five rides); Luke Chessell 1+1 (3); Ben Morley 9 (5); Shane Hazelden 6 (4); James Sarjeant 7 (4); Danno Verge 2 (3); Connor Coles 10+1 (5).

Penguins shine in season opener

SWIMMING

HARLOW Penguins Swimming Club sent 17 swimmers to Loughton Pool to compete in the Epping Forest Swimming Club's season opener meet.

This being the first meet of the season, expectations of results were not too high.

Despite this, Harlow swimmers achieved some notable performances, with 22 personal best (PB) times recorded.

Penguins also achieved eight gold medal swims, Owen Stringer (5), Mason Arnold (3) and perhaps most importantly Essex county qualifying times were set, most notably by Chloe Mitchell and Emily Hills, who each achieved them in the 50m freestyle.

All 17 swimmers achieved medals at various levels.

Most pleasing PB of the day was achieved by the club's youngest swimmer competing, Georgina Magson, who in the 50m breaststroke made a three-second improvement on the PB she had previously set.

Harlow Penguins SC trains at Harlow Leisurezone.

The club's next home gala meet is on Saturday December 1.

GB Laura's lotta bottle with milk campaign

HARLOW-born cyclist Laura Trott is relishing her role as one of the faces behind Make Mine Milk advertising campaign.

She has joined fellow Olympians boxer Nicola Adams and taekwondo star Jade Jones as part of the new drive to encourage people to drink more of the white stuff.

The women, who all won Olympic gold medals at London 2012 this summer, will be featured in the campaign promoting the benefits of low-fat milk.

Double gold medalist Trott told the Star: "I have milk every day. I train a lot and always look forward to a home-made smoothie after a hard session on the track."

"Every day starts with a bowl of cereal and a glass of milk separately on the side so the cereal doesn't go soggy."

The Make Mine Milk campaign launched in April 2010 and is now reaching the end of its funding.

It was created by the Milk Marketing Forum, a consortium of dairy firms supported by Dairy UK and The Dairy Council.

Skipper tries his Luk Down Under

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

LUKE Heskett will broaden his cricketing education as he sets off next week to spend six months playing in Western Australia.

The 23-year-old captain of Harlow Cricket Club's first team will be coaching the juniors and playing for Karrinyup Cricket Club, based in Perth.

Heskett, a medium-fast pace bowler from Fir Park in Harlow, also hopes to coach in local schools.

It will be a chance for Heskett to concentrate specifically on his own game after he has led Harlow for the past two seasons.

Showing maturity beyond his years, Heskett led the Marigolds side to promotion from division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League in 2011.

Heskett's team then did just enough to survive the drop this season.

He said: "I am looking forward to it. It will be an exciting experience and I want to improve as a cricketer."

"We [Harlow] played them five or six years ago and Carl Evans [Karrinyup's secretary] said I could come over when I wanted."

Heskett has been re-elected as first team captain for the 2013 season.

He will have former skipper James Butler back in the fold.

Heskett said: "James can keep wicket and it will mean that Andre Riddell can concentrate on his batting."

Butler has come back after a spell at Saracens Herts Cricket League club Ware along with middle-order batsmen, brothers Ryan and Lee Jessey.

Heskett added: "The main thing we are now

ON THE MOVE: Harlow skipper Luke Heskett is heading to Australia to play cricket over the winter, but secured the services of some ex-Harlow players, including James Butler, right, before he left looking for is an opening batsman as we struggled with our starts this year."

Ahmed Khawaja's all-round excellence with bat and ball was recognised when he was named the Cricketer of the Year at Harlow's annual presentation night on Saturday.

Club stalwart Cliff Clarke was awarded the Clubman of the Year trophy for all the work he has done on the ground.

Heskett said: "It has not been easy this year with the weather and Cliff has done superbly. Ahmed was the obvious choice for the player award."

Other Player of the year awards went to second team player Nino Calvino, third team player Soulat Ali and fourth team player James Coldwell.

The U-21 award went to Anthony Webb, while the Young Player of the Year was Conor Ramsay.

Late try seals victory for Clapton

UPPER CLAPTON 22, CLACTON 15 RFU ESSEX DIV ONE

UPPER Clapton had a much lighter pack, but they overcame this handicap to beat Clacton at home in their first league match.

The Clacton forwards were about two stone a man heavier in Saturday's clash.

Clacton went ahead in the first five minutes from a penalty before Jacob Philps kicked one for the hosts to make it 3-3.

The visitors regained the lead though a rolling maul, which led to an unconverted try.

However, Clapton bounced back when Clinton Dorling scored a try in the corner.

Philps kicked the conversion and the hosts led 10-8 at the break.

After the break, Clapton scored a converted try, but Clapton responded by scoring two tries.

The first came when flanker Laurie Dobbin touched down in the corner and this was not converted leaving the score at 15-15.

Clapton got the winning try when a quick tap penalty released Tom Roberts to score. This was converted by Philps.

Clapton are third in the 10-team table.

UPPER CLAPTON: Roberts, Hack, Vissier (Nicholson 70), Tindall, Rogers, Philps, Dorling, Beccera, Baldwin, Burke, Procel, Garwood, Dobbin, Clevely (Howard 70). Sub: Gunnell.

Green day for darts maximums

DARTS

DAMIAN Green went top of the 180s table after notching two maximums for the second week running in ServoLink's 5-3 win over Colt Hatch in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

Damian's dad Ron also hit a 180 in the same match.

Sawbridgeworth Brewery went top of the table after notching their second consecutive white-wash. They won 8-0 at Bucaneers.

Dave Galloway hit a 180 for White Admiral in a 6-2 victory over Staple Tye Colts, which knocked Colts off top spot.

Stow Snooker defeated Crusader 6-2 away with the help of 180s from Pat Yates and Robbie Wheeler.

Tye Green Whites triumphed 7-1 at Moot House Raiders and Tye Green Foxes beat Golden Swift 5-3.

Paringdon Social Club registered their first win since joining the league by beating Moot House 5-3.

Lakers hit for six as Street find new direction

GRAHAM Learner and Alex White bagged braces as Lower Street thrashed hosts EF Lakers 6-1 in division one.

Isaac Addo and Ben Simons also netted for the visitors, while Charlie Tansley scored a consolation for the hosts.

Goals from Justin Cummins (2), Liam Brown and Ben Simpson steered Hatfield Heath to a 4-2 victory over Avondale.

FOOTPRINT BISHOP'S STORTFORD, STANSTED & DISTRICT LEAGUE

Rob Helps replied as Albury lost 5-1 at North Weald (Matt Clark 2, Gary Branson 2, Scott Sergeant). This is effectively the North Weald reserve team as the first team, who were the premier division champions, were disbanded in the summer.

In the premier division, Alex Head netted for Heath Rovers when they drew 1-1 at Parsloe Athletic.

Other results: prem div: Frontiers 3 (Peter Thorpe 2, Dean Cannon), Langley Rangers 1 (James Cutler); Hertfordshire Rangers 0, Sheering 6; Northolt w/o Alemtie Ath res (unable to raise a side).

Div one: Fairways Corinthians 8 (Kevin O'Grady 3, Ben Oakes, Duncan Hurley 2, OG 2), Birchanger 2; Sheering res 6, Potter Street 2 (Dean Noble, Paul Nunn).

Heavy defeat for struggling Rams

HARLOW 10, NORWICH 32
RFU LONDON DIVISION THREE NORTH EAST

THE Rams' shaky start to the season continued as they lost heavily at home to Norwich on Saturday.

Harlow did better than in their opening-day defeat to Wisbech 12 days ago, but it was still not enough against a strong all-round Norfolk side who will be contesting the title this term.

The defeat was worsened as first-half injuries were sustained to wingers Jamie Fricker (hamstring) and Chris Webb (head).

With Rhys Powell (rib injury) and Charlie Woodington (holiday) ruled out, coach Lee Harron filled in at scrum half against Norwich.

Harlow who were also without forward Paul Eynon (Achilles tendon injury) and number eight Kain Claridge (holiday), started well.

Dan Smith kicked a 10th-minute penalty before a line-out move close to the visitors' line saw John Unwin force his way over for a try.

Smith kicked the conversion for a 10-0 lead for Harlow. But that was as good as it got.

Norwich's James Brown kicked a 35th-minute penalty before a missed tackle by Harlow allowed the visitors' speedy backs to move the ball for captain Dave Micklethwaite to touch down.

Brown kicked the conversion and it was 10-10 at half-time.

The Rams then had to reorganise. Substitute Martin Mallia, normally a hooker, was forced to switch to flanker to allow Josh Drake to replace the injured Fricker.

Stonhouse played for Leopards junior team when they were in Ware. The hosts started tentatively on Friday, but Russ Allan got the first two baskets to settle home nerves.

Shab Niazi then knocked down his first of five three-pointers on the night to give Hawks

KICKING GAME: The Rams kick for goal against Norwich

(HSP0861565)

Norwich went 13-10 ahead on 45 minutes through a Jay O'Brien penalty.

Shortly after, the Norfolk side's hooker was sin-binned for a ruck offence, but Smith missed the resultant penalty.

Despite going down to 14, Norwich applied the pressure and the visitors missed a penalty.

However, a missed kick to touch by Harlow was caught by Norwich back Jon Wheeler, who neatly passed inside to full back Chris Parrott for a try.

O'Brien converted and Harlow trailed 20-10.

Strong defence was shown by Harlow skipper Shaun Roberts before Norwich's third try on 65 minute.

Simon Darby touched down from a line-out move and O'Brien kicked the conversion.

The scoring was rounded off when Norwich left winger Jodie Walker scored a late unconverted try.

Player-coach Rhys Powell said: "Our pack did quite well but our backs missed too many tackles. Norwich were full of confidence and after they scored two tries heads dropped a bit. The attitude was almost that we were going to lose. We let them break the game line too often."

Harlow are 11th of 12 teams. HARLOW: Mackie, Fricker (Mallia), L Bowering, Heapy, Webb (Banks), Smith, Harron, Cunningham, Bolt, Wright (Branch), Unwin, Twinner, Clark, Drake, Roberts.

Hawks start season with thumping victory

A SUCCESSFUL curtain-raiser to the 2012-13 campaign was enjoyed by Harlow Hawks when they comfortably beat Watford-based division two side Michaelians at home in their first Herts County Cup group game.

Hawks, who play in division one in the Herts Basketball League, had lost both of their big men in brothers Simon and Luke Atkinson from last year and there were a couple of new faces in former Hawks junior Rohan Lenihan and Russell Stonhouse.

Stonhouse played for Leopards junior team when they were in Ware.

The hosts started tentatively on Friday, but Russ Allan got the first two baskets to settle home nerves.

Shab Niazi then knocked down his first of five three-pointers on the night to give Hawks

HARLOW 74, MICHAELIANS 29
HERTS COUNTY CUP, GROUP D

the lead.

The hosts went into the second quarter leading 15-9.

Hawks player-coach Shab Niazi demanded more effort and his team responded.

Michaelians were restricted to only four points in the quarter which saw the Hawks raise the tempo well.

Nick Moss and Jones added 11 points between them as Hawks took control by the half-time break which saw them lead 36-13.

Hawks started the third quarter well.

Good ball movement set up Niazi for three three-pointers, while Allan scored well inside.

Hawks continued to increase their lead as they out-scored Michaelians 19-6 in the quarter, playing at a good tempo and stretching their lead to 55-23.

The hosts did not ease up in the final quarter. Rimantas Norkeliunas was threatening while Stuart Burgess provided the early offensive as he sank a free throw and an excellent three-pointer.

Moss added five more points in quick succession to drive the final nail in the coffin.

Coach Niazi said: "Debutants Russell Stonhouse and Roan Lenihan put in positive performances. It was pleasing to see everybody contributing to the victory."

HARLOW HAWKS: Moss (17pts), S. Niazi (17), Allan (10), Norkeliunas (8), Stonhouse (6), Jones (4pts), Lenihan (4pts), Burgess (4pts), Spashett (2), Z. Niazi (2).

Kane's able as Vipers seal cup win

YOUTH FOOTBALL

KANE Waterfield's tremendous four-goal haul secured a spot in the second round of the Essex County Cup for Summers Vipers U-11s.

It was the first time the Harlow team had competed in this competition.

Despite throwing away a two-goal lead the Passmore side showed great character to eventually win through 5-2 away to Billericay-based side Forest Glade Whites.

Charlie Barclay got Vipers off to a great start with an excellent individual goal early on.

Waterfield opened his account and Vipers led 2-0 at the break but had suffered a blow by losing key midfielder Alex Walter to injury. Without any extra subs they carried on with just the minimum nine-player squad.

The hosts stormed back to level the tie.

Many sides would have buckled but Waterfield led a counter attack to make it 3-2. He then scored a sublime third goal with an exquisite chip from outside the box before completing his haul to conclude the scoring as Vipers secured a much-deserved win.

Top Oslo effort from Kinney

ANDY Kinney showed incredible stamina as he ran a 10km race and then a half marathon in the Norwegian capital Oslo within the space of a few hours.

The Harlow Running Club member completed the 10km in 54 minutes and 52 seconds when he came 1,519th place out of 3,734 finishers.

Incredibly two hours later, Kinney ran the Oslo Half Marathon in 1:52.38, coming 3,134th out of 6,187 finishers.

Meanwhile, all seven Harlow Running Club members achieved personal bests or earned a medal at the Pleshey Half Marathon.

The event near Chelmsford also doubled up as the Essex Half Marathon Championships.

Pride of place went to Steve Murtagh who finished 4th overall from a field of 332 finishers.

He won a gold medal in the Essex veteran 40 age group.

His fantastic time of one hour 14.30 was also a personal best (PB) and a new HRC Vet 45 record.

Murtagh was followed home by Jamie Jephcott (50th, 1:25.05 PB), Steve Ambrose (72nd, 1:30.37 PB) and Dionne Jones (93rd and 5th woman overall).

Jones' superb time of 1:33.50 was a PB and a new HRC Vet 40 record.

John Tennant was 95th and the 2nd Essex Vet 60 to earn him a silver medal in 1:34.05.

Janice Page set a PB of 1:47.06 in coming 184th and a PB of 1:50.17 was also set by Dave Page (206th, 1:50.17).

Other results:- Takeley 10km: Pasquale Pellechia 26th, 1st Vet 60, 45.00; Vicky Steadman 31st, 3rd female finisher, 45:14; Graham Pugh 55th, 47.38; Linda Selby 180th, 58.41.

(Surrey): Andy Kinney 6:52.21.

Two-goal lead thrown away

A WEAKENED Harlow side let a two-goal lead slip as they lost at Waltham Forest II on Saturday.

Harlow were skippered by defender Kyle Plumridge as James Smith was undergoing a dental operation and was unavailable.

Midfielder Joe Symonds (knee injury), defender Luke Krzoska (muscle injury) and experienced defender Alastair Castle (work commitments) were also ruled out.

Harlow went ahead against the run of play on 10 minutes when Ben Light fired in a rebound from a short corner.

Craig Cholerton then had a goal ruled because of an infringement by Adam Ottley before Cholerton made it 2-0 from a 15th-minute short corner.

However, Forest netted two late first-half goals.

The first came from a penalty flick awarded after the umpire adjudged the ball had gone off Ottley's shoulder.

The hosts then scored from open play before grabbing the winner on 55 minutes through a move from the left.

Harlow exerted pressure but an equaliser proved elusive.

Harlow midfielder Cholerton said: "We let the decisions get to us. It was not a great performance."

HARLOW: Johnson, Plumridge, Grace, Cox, Kirk, Ottley, Cholerton, Light, Munro, Boughtwood, Mace.

GB stars' House visit

TWO school boy brothers from Harlow relished the opportunity to meet two Great Britain's London Olympics bronze medal-winning women's hockey team members.

GB captain Kate Walsh and midfield maestro Helen Richardson, along with their medals, were very popular and the British skipper even signed a hockey stick for 10-year-old Church Langley School pupil Toby House.

Toby said: "It was great getting my stick signed by them and getting to hold a real Olympic bronze medal. It was quite heavy!"

Toby's brother Henry House (13), a student at Passmores Academy, added: "Seeing the GB girls and speaking to them about winning a bronze medal was inspiring and made us want to win things in the future."

The siblings met the GB stars when the girls made a tour to the boys' club, Broxbourne.

The East Herts club was one of only a handful across the country to be awarded a Great Britain player visit as part of the Harvester Club Weekend initiative, which saw clubs open their doors to potential new recruits and to people just wanting to give hockey a go.

Walsh was one of the stand out players at London 2012, courageously returning from a jaw injury sustained against Japan after just a week, to lead her team to the podium.

The players were mobbed on arrival at Broxbourne with large queues forming for autographs, photos, chats about their Olympic experiences and to hold the girls' medals.

Cunningham backs under-fire manager

HAWKS co-owner Tom Cunningham has lent his full support to under-pressure manager Danny Chapman.

Chapman has had a difficult start to the season with injuries to experienced players but impatience has grown among the club fans after the early FA Cup and FA Trophy exits.

Cunningham has known Chapman since he was a teenager as a centre-half at Leyton Orient and has admired his character.

An unwavering Cunningham said: "What we are looking to achieve is for the long term and Danny Chapman is 110 per cent the right person for the job."

"He took the team to the play-offs when he took over and we were there or thereabouts last year."

Waltham Forest, Harlow had won two of their first four Ryman League division one north matches.

Chapman, pictured right, has been forced to field more youngsters than he would have liked to as key players such as Danny Brown (knee injury) and Donny Barnard (groin injury) have been ruled out.

The decision was made in the close season to cut the budget and go for a blend of experienced and young players.

"We want there to be heart and soul – not players just for the money," said Cunningham.

"We have lost Donny Barnard for a few weeks as well as Danny Brown who is also a good player."

He added: "Danny [Chapman] is only 32. The way Danny has dealt with it has been fantastic.

"The youngsters are enthusiastic and the more experienced players will get back. We are only going to get better."

Cunningham also underlined the fact that the team have found it hard to build up continuity.

Harlow's early cup exits have meant that three of the five Saturdays in September will be blank weekends.

"It has made it very difficult for the manager for continuity as well as with the injuries," said Cunningham.

Harlow Town are due to host Brentwood Town in the league on Tuesday but this will be postponed if Brentwood draw against Walton & Hersham in the FA Trophy this Saturday.

A replay would take precedence and Harlow's clash against Brentwood would be put back.

HOPES were high that Harlow could launch their season with a victory, but they had to share the spoils with Old Southendians.

Harlow had home advantage and were boosted by the return of two formidable defenders in Jo Chambers and Liezal Hansson, who had respectively missed the last one and twos seasons.

The hosts created numerous chances in the first half, which included Carolyn Welsford firing one effort wide.

Harlow broke the deadlock in the 34th minute. A well-rehearsed short corner routine saw Welsford score in the bottom left corner.

During the second half Harlow were under a lot of pressure and the visitors equalised from open play in the 47th minute.

Petra Trimble made some goal-saving tackles, which saw her awarded player-of-the-match, while Hansson defended stoutly.

Emma Tweddle and Clare Attack linked up well and came close, but it remained 1-1. HARLOW (squad): Ferdinando (C), Byers, Trimble, Welsford, Tweddle, Thomas, Shearman, Attack, Chambers, Hansson, Rowley, Stanesby.

School tags tournament joy

CHURCH Langley's A team triumphed 9-7 in a thrilling final of a tag rugby tournament hosted at Upper Clapton RFC.

The Harlow school was one of four primaries from the town competing.

It put two sides into the 13-team event.

Latton Green also had two teams, while Peartree Mead and Purford Green also sent a side to the event at the Thornwood Common-based club.

Langley's A team took on Moreton in a repeat of last season's final.

Both teams put in a tremendous performance.

Langley were 3-1 down at one stage but fought back with five tries from Ikram Abou. Josh Scott and Charlie Hawkes also bagged scores with the latter touching down a magnificent try when he flitted from one side of the pitch to the other and evaded the desperate dives of the Moreton defence to score near the touchline.

Langley had also had a very tough semi-final against Epping Upland and were behind in this match before triumphing 8-7 thanks to a wonderful individual try from Toby House in the very last second as extra-time loomed.

Their fight back owed much to another excellent display from Hawkes who scored six tries in this game.

Earlier, Langley had won their group with a 9-6 win over St Andrews (North Weald) and a 9-4 victory against Sheering.

Church Langley deputy head teacher David Stacey said: "Jasmine Devine, Jordan Washington, Phoebe Barnsley, Ellie Wollaston and Austin Kirk were also part of the triumphant team. And a special mention should go to Liz Huff, Director of Sporting Activities, and Alan Wollaston who coached the team so superbly."

In the Plate final, Purford Green beat Latton Green A 7-5.

Theydon Bois were victors in the Bowl final, defeating Sheering 5-4.

A fair play trophy went to Epping Primary.

Mac the knife!

Popular HTFC secretary 'Macca' axed for comments on Facebook

HAWKS co-owner and newly-appointed chief executive Tom Cunningham has lifted the lid on his decision to sack John McClelland as club secretary.

Popular club stalwart McClelland (47), known affectionately as 'Macca', was fired after disparaging remarks on the social networking site Facebook.

He had sympathised with Shaun Presland and Stephanie Collyer who had quit Barrows Farm after many years supporting the club as volunteers and operating the turnstiles.

The couple claimed they were unhappy with how the Ryman division one north club was being run.

Cunningham (56) said: "They [the comments] did play a part. You would expect the club secretary to support the chairman and the club. John's comments in his position were unfortunate."

By DAVID RIMMER

He added: "There is no animosity. John has played a big part in [helping the club over] the last two years, but things needed freshening up."

McClelland, left, was disappointed to lose his role which he had held since the 2009-10 season.

He said: "I was a bit shocked by the way it was done [by email]. It was not face to face or by a phone call. It is their choice. It is out of my control."

McClelland said he had been offered a similar post at a club playing at the same level as Harlow, but he would not reveal which one it was.

He was due to have talks with them yesterday (Wednesday).

Meanwhile, match day secretary Ray Dyer will take over from McClelland as club secretary.

McClelland said: "Good luck to Ray and I hope he does well. I would like to thank the fans and wish [first team manager] Danny Chapman and [assistant] Paul West-Hook and the team all the best.

"I hope they win everything from now on. They are trying hard. I can vouch for that."

Cunningham, meanwhile, explained why he had promoted himself from director to chief executive.

"We had spoken to Alan Turvey [chairman of the Ryman Football League] and there may be confidential matters that the League has to approach someone with if they cannot get hold of the chairman or secretary," he explained.

"Ray will take over as secretary [from McClelland]. The roles dovetail. Before he became match day secretary, John was doing both roles and before that Graeme Auger did both too."

Cunningham also praised stadium manager Sue Crowley who has left the club to take up a full-time post in the care industry.

"She has been at the club for five or six years and she has done very well. She will work as a volunteer when she can," he said.
